

Opinions of Taxpayers
On Fishing Pier Bond

As the News at the present time is very much interested, with the rest of our citizens, in whether or not anything is to come of the effort to build a fishing and pleasure pier here, one of our reporters has consulted a number of property owners in regard to a bond issue as proposed in the city council Tuesday, August 11, and generally they are against a bond issue very strongly, and think better of a direct assessment that could be paid out within the year.

Following is what taxpayers and subscribers say:

Joe Hilliard, 4603 Lotus.
"I am decidedly against a bond issue. It is too much like a Mattoon Act. Why should Ocean Beach bond itself for a pier the whole county will benefit by?"

Fred Kraft, Kraft's Drug Store.
"I feel that the city and county should pay the expenses and not burden the property owners. There are too many bonds now."

I. J. Claspill, 5015 Newport.
"I am for what the majority wants. If it comes to taxes, I have taxable property and I am willing to pay my share."

Mrs. G. C. Compton, 4941 Del Mar.
"I don't think we should load up any more. I am for improvements in the beach, but there are too many taxes already."

C. O. Carl, 4875 Coronado.
"I am in favor of the pier, and, rather than not have it, I would be in favor of a bond issue; but I think that first we should try to get the city and county to put up the money."

Jay Coleman, 5009 West Point Loma.
"I am emphatically against it. I think it would be impossible to float a bond issue here at this time."

Ida McNair, 5142 Muir.
"We pay taxes that are used for improvements in other parts of the city. Why should we pay for this out of our own pockets? I am certainly not in favor of a bond issue."

H. J. Warren, 5015 Cape May.
"Yes, I am in favor of a bond issue. As long as we are getting outside help, I think we should do our share."

Ben Jackson, 4914 Santa Monica.
"We pay enough taxes in this little town to put a pier here. It's up to the city and county to do it."

E. J. Haas, 4671 Voltaire.
"I don't think it is right for Ocean Beach property owners to be bonded for a pier that will be put in for the benefit of all San Diego county and Imperial county."

Bert Cooper, 4459 Saratoga.
"The pier would be a fine thing for the beach, but I don't see why we should be the goats. As many people would come from other parts of town as from Ocean Beach, and I think the city and county should pay for it."

Mrs. Belle Peeler, 5043 Newport.
"Ocean Beach has had its fill of bonds long ago. It can't be done that way. The pier would be a fine thing for Ocean Beach, but it's up to the city and county to construct it."

J. W. Dick, 4972 Niagara.
"I think a bond issue would be all right if everyone could pay, but there may be some people even to a small assessment, who could not keep up the payments, therefore I believe the bond issue would not be satisfactory to everyone."

Carl Schroder, 4844 W. Point Loma.
"I am with the majority of the people, who do not want a bond issue. However, rather than lose the pier, I am willing, and I think others should be willing, to have a bond issue as a last resort. The pier would bring people to Ocean Beach, increase property value, and help business. The bond would amount to about $6.25 per 50-foot lot."

L. S. Roberts and his son, from Los Angeles, are at Camp Holiday for two weeks. They are annual visitors to the beach.

(Political Advertisement)

WALTER BELLON
CANDIDATE FOR SUPERVISOR
FIRST DISTRICT

Government is a necessity but not a luxury, Walter Bellon, candidate for supervisor from the First District maintains in declaring that county government must be operated on the basis of what the taxpayers can afford to pay.

Discussing Ocean Beach, the First District's only seaside playground, Bellon declared:

"Ocean Beach has been politically neglected by state and federal governments; long recognized hazards to surf bathing have been ignored. I propose to lend my efforts toward providing safeguards against rip tides by construction of jetties which would eliminate these dangers, as well as prevent loss of beach sand due to the scouring action of surf and tide. It is needless to say that other necessary improvements in this section will have my earnest support."

Other principles stressed by Bellon in his campaign are:

"The home of any citizen must be protected by law from confiscation for unpaid taxes when it is shown such home owner through circumstances beyond his control is unable to meet tax demands.

"As a measure of economy, personal property should be assessed only once every five years, unless owners request otherwise.

"The general fund of the county should not exceed $300,000 at any time.

"Consolidating of offices where they overlap in efforts.

"Eliminating of unnecessary governmental functions.

"People to vote on what the tax rate should be, and the per cent of property values to be assessed.

"No county body should be permitted to provide funds for purchase of lands, parks, buildings, etc., after people have voted 'no'.

"Gas tax moneys allocated to city and county governments should be used in part for improvement of such heavily travelled arteries as Washington st., and University avenue at Fifth and Sixth avenues.

"All delinquent tax moneys in excess of general fund requirements should be used to amortize the funded debt and to lower taxes the following year."

(Political Advertisement)

Mrs. Jeanette E. Daley
CANDIDATE FOR ASSEMBLY
78th DISTRICT

A great many of the citizens in the 78th assembly district are pledging support to Mrs. Jeanette E. Daley, prominent democratic leader, which may assure her victory in the primaries of August 25.

Mrs. Daley attended the democratic convention at Philadelphia as an appointee by President Roosevelt to serve as a member of his California campaign committee.

A committee of friends and supporters who have been handling her campaign during her absence while on her eastern tour and since her return makes the following statement:

"We feel proud to offer to voters of the 78th district a practical business woman qualified in every way to represent her district in the important office she is seeking. She was a partner with her husband, George R. Daley, in the principle ownership of the Union National Bank, which was later sold to the Bank of America. Mrs. Daley handled the financial end of the transaction. At present, she is studying law with the intention of soon applying for admission to the bar. She is secretary-treasurer of the Daley corporation, of which her husband is president, and is credited by the Western Construction News as being the only woman in the United States engaged in general construction work. The honor bestowed upon Mrs. Daley by President Roosevelt when he selected her to represent San Diego at the national convention is ample proof of her ability."

REVISION OF PLANS FOR FISHING PIER MAY SPEED WORK

(San Diego Union)

Supervisor Edgar F. Hastings, in conference with Fred Lockwood, representing the city, and Robert Gregory, representing WPA, has revised the city-county project for construction of a fishing pier at Ocean Beach. The new application will be submitted soon to Frank Y. McLaughlin, state WPA director.

Under the revision, the pier has been classified as both a recreational and erosion project, two types that have the right of way over all others because of their desirability in the eyes of the government supervisors.

"For this reason," said Hastings, "we feel that it may be possible for the government to make special concessions and finance the project in a more substantial manner than otherwise."

He added that it is proposed to use large quantities of material taken from structures soon to be removed from the Exposition grounds and thus save the people of the city and county, sponsoring the project, a large part of what in WPA parlance is known as the "sponsor's contribution."

(Political Advertisement)

For Supervisor 1st district
David C. CLARK
A Democrat and a Veteran

THANKS FRIENDS

I wish to thank my many friends for their numerous gracious gifts and lovely cards on my birthday.

Mrs. E. H. Wickern

(Political Advertisement)

James E. Parsons Will Help Fishing Pier.

That the out-spoken support of the Ocean Beach fishing pier given in recent weeks by James E. Parsons, candidate for supervisor in this district, particularly with reference to what has been done for the pier by business clubs with which Parsons is affiliated and by the publicity which he has given it, has given it, has given a new impetus to his campaign in this part of the first district, is the announcement of the Ocean Beach Parsons-for-Supervisor committee.

"Not only has Mr. Parsons been a consistent fighter, especially for the fishing pier," says this announcement, "but he has been the inspirer of the best publicity in favor of the fishing pier which has yet been written. He has gone so far as to have brought about in one of the weeklies of San Diego the finest article in defense of Ocean Beach and its needs that ever has been written."

"The record of Mr. Parsons in the Hillcrest district as a fighter for public welfare projects, his keen interest in the development of the first district, his acknowledged business training, his success with his own affairs during all the time of the depression, his unquestioned standing as a public-spirited and public-minded citizen—all these are guarantees of what we may expect from him as a supervisor."

"If the Ocean Beach fishing pier is ever built the people of Ocean Beach can be certain that James E. Parsons will have a leading part in its construction, either as a supervisor or as a private citizen. But the fact remains that Ocean Beach has never had a candidate for public office whose statements about his policies have been so exact and whose record of achievement in the past has been so sure of promise of what we may expect from him in the future as James E. Parsons."

"When the resident and taxpayer of Ocean Beach goes into the polls next Tuesday to vote for a county supervisor, when he is there alone with his conscience in the voting booth—let him remember that the only benefit he can get from his vote is what he can get for Ocean Beach. He hasn't got anything in the past—let him vote for himself and his own this one time. To put James E. Parsons on the ballot is to elect him in November and to elect him in November is to give Ocean Beach the only county supervisor she has ever had."

(Political Advertisement)

RE-ELECT
RALPH W. WALLACE
STATE LEGISLATURE

Because he is the only state assemblyman who has ever shown any constructive interest in Ocean Beach and Mission Bay, Ralph W. Wallace is strongly backed by residents of Ocean Beach for re-election next Tuesday.

In the last session, Wallace introduced in the legislature A.B.428, the Mission Bay Recreational Harbor Development bill. Against great odds he was successful in getting the bill through the state assembly by an overwhelming vote. Every assemblyman who voted against the Mission Bay Recreational Harbor Development bill, with one exception, represented a district which had its own recreational harbor. They did not want to see our harbor developed as it would draw away from their own attractions. The bill was later defeated in the state senate.

For the first time the people of San Diego are becoming aware of the marvelous possibilities of Mission Bay. The fight Wallace has led for the bay's development has aroused public interest in our bay and beaches. His re-election to the state assembly will insure a continuation of the fight with good prospects for a victory.

(Political Advertisement)

Denton Recommends
Better Government

Daniel M. Denton, one of the board of governors of the Apartment House Owners and Managers Ass'n., of San Diego county, and manager of the Vitrified Products Corp., and at this time a candidate for the office of supervisor in district No. 1 has offered suggestions as to some things which should be corrected in county government.

Charter ordinance should be changed wherein county restaurants and housing organizations are discriminated against.

Salaries of the supervisors should be cut to at least $200 per month, and if elected will use every effort possible to make such change.

Recommend any office holders salaries be cut, and consolidate overlapping departments of government.

Recommend salaries in lower brackets in some cases to be raised.

Stop permitting officials to pay $1.50 for meals from the welfare fund, allow more to those who are receiving less per meal from the same fund.

Place more business economy into government affairs, and lighten the load to the people.

Co-operate with cities and towns to better their condition. Over the county 32 years of business experience, the same class of business experience which it takes to save the life of competitive business.

Liquidate the matron bonds in a business manner and eliminate the useless expense in this undertaking which is now existing.

Stop the free car rides, and free meals at county expense, and many other things which create waste, and loss to the people.

Government should not be a luxury, it is a necessity, and is supported by the people, for the people. Would it be fair for the clerks of a store to give one person 2 lbs. of bacon for the price of one, or to give one pound of bacon for the price of two, both customers being owners of the business, or is it fair for an official to take advantage of any citizen who has a part in his government, and every one has a part to keep, a responsibility to assume, a cost to pay.

For better government for less cost vote for

DANIEL M. DENTON
Manufacturer

RECENT ARRIVAL FROM HONOLULU HAS BIRTHDAY PARTY

A birthday dinner was given Monday night by Mr. and Mrs. J. Neilson at their home, corner of Saratoga and Sunset Cliffs Blvd., for their daughter Margaret.

A lovely dinner was served with ice cream and a beautiful cake with fine candles.

The little 5-year old gave a hula dance with a full Honolulu costume which she brought back with her after living there three years. She received several lovely presents, including a big thrill when she unwrapped a tissue covered box tied with blue ribbon, and two baby ducks jumped out. Mrs. Ruby Barrett, a guest of the party gave the surprise of the ducks.

BISHOP TO SPEAK AT METHODIST CHURCH

Bishop J. W. Robinson, bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church in Southern Asia will speak next Sunday morning at the Point Loma Methodist church, Ocean Beach. Bishop Robinson is the senior bishop in his area which comprises Singapore, India and Burmah. The Bishop will speak on some of the significant changes now taking place in the east which will vitally affect the Christian world. Rev. Hughes will preside. Music will be sung by the choir and the girl's chorus. The service begins at eleven o'clock. The church is located at the corner of Saratoga ave. and Sunset Cliffs Blvd., Ocean Beach.

Mrs. C. B. Fields and children, Rebecca and Billy, returned recently from a two-month visit to Chickasha, Oklahoma. They are now living at 4447 Voltaire.

Monthly Meet Allied
Civics Fri. Aug. 28

The Allied Civic Ass'n. of Ocean Beach will hold the regular monthly meeting on the fourth Friday, August 28, in the veterans' hall. Everyone who is interested in civic betterment is welcome to attend. Anyone wishing to talk on any subject of interest to this district will be given the floor.

All organizations of Ocean Beach are invited to send four delegates to represent them. So far we have no church organization represented.

We are working to better the conditions in this district and we need the help of every organization.

E. E. Steele, Pres.

NEW HOME FOR
W. POINT LOMA BLVD.

Building permit was granted the first of the week to Rose L. Williams frame residence and garage to cost $2600 at 4647 W. Point Loma Blvd.

Minor improvement of the week was also started by Ralph Chadwick who is building a garage at his home 2135 Froude street; and R. E. Peebles, 4739 Coronado avenue, alterations to cost $200.

The News does Job Printing

V. F. W. INITIATION

An initiation for new V. F. W. members will be held at the civic center building, August 26th, with the Dawson post presenting the initiation work.

All V. F. W. members invited.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Charles H. Daly wish to express their appreciation for the kindness and sympathy extended by all Ocean Beach friends in their recent bereavement

43p

News Review of Current Events the World Over

Suspension of Ten Unions Voted by Federation Council—
Many Oil Men Indicted for Conspiracy—Metaxas Dictator of Greece.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

© Western Newspaper Union.

J. P. Frey

UNLESS John L. Lewis and his associates in the Committee for Industrial Organization repent and cease their "rebellious" activities before September 5, the ten unions they head will be under suspension from the American Federation of Labor. Such was the verdict of the federation's executive council which passed on the charges of John P. Frey, president of the metal trades division, that the CIO was "fomenting insurrection and rebellion." David Dubinsky, head of the garment workers, cast the only vote against the suspension order.

Lewis having definitely set himself against any peace overtures, it appeared that the suspension certainly would be put into effect. The next move will be up to the Tampa convention in the fall, which will be asked to vote the expulsion of the refractory unions.

The ten unions accused by Mr. Frey and found guilty are:

Amalgamated Clothing Workers, Sidney Hillman, president.
Oil Field, Gas Well, and Refinery Workers, Harvey Fremming, president.
Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, Thomas H. Brown, president.
Ladies' Garment Workers, David Dubinsky, president.
Textile Workers, Thomas F. McMahon, president.
Flat Glass Workers, Glen McCabe, president.
Iron, Steel, and Tin Workers, M. F. Tighe, president.
Automobile Workers, Homer Martin, president.
Rubber Workers, S. H. Dalrymple, president.

Action on the International Typographical union, whose president, C. P. Howard, is secretary of the CIO; and the United Hat, Cap and Millinery Workers, part of whom are not associated with the CIO, was deferred. The suspended unions have a membership of about one million, or nearly one-third of the total in the federation.

The council stated: "This is the first attempt ever made, during the existence of the A. F. of L., covering a period of more than 50 years, to set up a dual movement within."

"It was the opinion of the executive council that it could not condone the setting up of a rival organization within the officially recognized family of organized labor, or tolerate and countenance it without sacrificing its self-respect or making an unconditional surrender to a minority group composed of members who are in open rebellion to democratic procedure and majority rule, as exemplified at the late convention of the A. F. of L."

Lewis characterized the council's action as one of "incredible and crass stupidity" and said that it was "dictated by personal selfishness and frantic fear."

SIX passengers and two pilots were instantly killed when a big Lockheed Electra plane of the Chicago and Southern Airlines crashed a few minutes after taking off from the airport of St. Louis, Mo. At this writing there is no explanation for the disaster. The plane was almost new and the weather not bad though skies were overcast.

The plane was bound from New Orleans for Chicago, and five of the victims were residents of the latter city. One of the dead was Vernon Omie, a veteran pilot and husband of Phoebe Omie, a noted flyer.

CHARGED by the government with conspiracy to violate the anti-trust law by combining to dominate the purchasing of oil in the Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma fields and to fix prices of gasoline in the Middle West, 58 persons, 23 petroleum concerns and three publishing companies were indicted by a federal grand jury in Madison, Wis. Among the prominent defendants are Edward G. Seubert of Chicago, president of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana; Henry M. Dawes of Evanston, Ill., president of the Pure Oil company, and many officials of Standard Oil, Pure Oil, Deep Rock, Socony-Vacuum and various other oil concerns and their subsidiaries. Also in the list are Warren C. Platt of Cleveland, publisher of the National Petroleum News and Platt's Oilgram; his two publications and the Chicago Journal of Commerce.

The indictment charged that the defendant oil companies formed pools in the east Texas and mid-continent fields for the purpose of purchasing gasoline at artificially high prices from independent producers, and in furtherance of such a scheme were members of associations which included the independent refiners, to aid the plan, had curtailed their production of gasoline.

This, said Mr. Platt, is exactly what the oil companies did with the approval of Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, administrator of the NRA petroleum code, when efforts were being made to limit the production of gasoline, prevent the flow of excess quota oil into market channels, and raise prices in that turbulent industry.

"The government's charge turns on whether a practice legally started and carried on under the recent NRA petroleum code was continued in illegal manner after the NRA was killed by the United States Supreme court," Mr. Platt said.

EXPERT crop statisticians estimate that, as a result of the record breaking drought, this year's corn crop will be reduced to 1,572,000,000 bushels, which would be the smallest yield since 1881 except for the disastrous drought year of 1934. In that year total production was 1,478,000,000, but the acreage was smaller than it is this season.

Argentine farmers are expected to profit to the extent of $50,000,000 or more as a result of the keen competition for corn between the United States and Europe, which has recently lifted prices about 17 cents per bushel in the Buenos Aires market.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT was visibly aroused by Republican charges that the New Dealers were seeking to reap political profit from the drought conditions. At his press conference he broke with the usual rule by permitting himself to be directly quoted as saying:

"It is a great disservice to the proper administration of any government to link up human misery with partisan politics."

Gen. Metaxas

THERE is another dictatorship in Europe, this time in Greece. Gen. John Metaxas, premier, announced that a general strike fostered by communists was likely to lead to serious disturbances, so, with the approval of King George II, he declared martial law, dissolved parliament, postponed elections indefinitely and mobilized all workers in essential services such as railways, in order that, called to the colors, they would be directly under government control.

Strong guards were mounted at power stations, gas works and other vital points and all soldiers and police not on guard duty were held in barracks ready for action.

Metaxas promised the enforcement of an eight hour day, a minimum wage and a social insurance system. He remodeled the cabinet, taking for himself the army, navy, air and foreign affairs portfolios. Dispatches to Bucharest said there had been clashes in the northern provinces of Greece between workers and the military forces.

DESPERATE fighting for possession of the passes in the Guadarrama mountains north of Madrid was going on between the government forces and the rebel troops. Loyalist soldiers were hurried to that region, and Madrid claimed some victories. However, the Fascists on the northern side of the range were said to be within sight of the capital and in position for a vigorous advance.

The rebels scored in the south by landing 2,000 Moroccan troops from Ceuta after a lively sea and air fight in which two loyalist warships were driven off. The loyalists were also reported to have met defeat near Avila, losing 600 men and some tanks and trucks.

On the twentieth day of the rebellion the government announced it had captured the provinces of Catalonia, Valencia, Murcia, Malaga, Ciudad Real, Guadalajara, Badajoz and the northern resort city of San Sebastian.

Fascist Italy has been accused of aiding the Spanish rebels, and it is asserted a number of Italian bombing planes were sent to them in Morocco. The leftist French government naturally is in sympathy with the Madrid government and Frenchmen, unarmed, have been given permission to cross the border to aid in putting down the rebellion. German and Russian sympathies, also, are ranged on opposite sides, and all this caused fears that a general war might result. France called on all other nations to preserve neutrality, and Spain warned Italy and Germany to keep hands off.

SENATOR HENRY W. KEYES of New Hampshire has announced that he is not a candidate for reelection by the Republicans, preferring "to retire from active participation in public affairs." The Republicans therefore will choose between former Senator George H. Moses and Gov. H. Styles Bridges, both of whom have announced their candidacy for the nomination.

Kansas Republicans renominated Senator Arthur Capper, and the Democrats picked Omar Ketchum of Topeka. In Kentucky the Democrats renominated Senator M. M. Logan, whose Republican opponent in November will be Robert H. Lucas.

Marion A. Zioncheck, the eccentric congressman from Seattle, reconsidered his decision to retire and announced that, at the request of his mother, he would be a candidate to succeed himself, "to show the people that I am neither crazy nor foolish."

IN THE first few days of the Olympic games in Berlin the American track team piled up such an imposing number of points that it appeared certain none of the rival teams could catch up. Jesse Owens of Ohio State university led his mates in this victorious march, winning three championships, in the 100-meter and 200-meter runs and the broad jump. In the longer dash he lowered the world and Olympic marks. Ken Carpenter of California won the discus throw with a new Olympic record of 50.48 meters, and Gordon Dunn, also of California, was second. Earl Meadows of Texas was first in the pole vault with a new Olympic mark; and points were won by various other American athletes.

Among the women contestants Helen Stephens of Missouri distinguished herself by breaking the world record in two heats of the 100-meter dash.

NEW YORK Republicans are to nominate a candidate for governor at their party convention in September, and Col. Theodore Roosevelt has said in a letter that was made public that he is willing to accept that honor if the party so desires.

Colonel Roosevelt, now forty-eight years old, was the Republican candidate for governor in 1924 and was defeated by Alfred E. Smith. Since then he has been governor of Puerto Rico and governor-general of the Philippines.

Col. Roosevelt

A VOLUNTARY cut of $25,861,936 in the debts of 33,906 "distressed" farmers was reported by the Resettlement administration. The debts, it said, were scaled down by creditors, through the work of voluntary farm debt committees in bringing farmers and their creditors "together in a neutral atmosphere" during the ten months ended June 30.

Expenses of seeking debt readjustments, taken from a fund provided by President Roosevelt Sept. 1 last year, amounted to 1 per cent of the total amount of debts involved, the administration said. So far, $1,100,000 of the allocated $2,000,000 had been expended.

DECLARING that it "will indorse no candidate" of party in the Presidential campaign, the American Liberty league states:

"The league is neither an adjunct nor an ally of the Republican party. It is not an adjunct of the Democratic party, even though many of its principles harmonize with the excellent platform adopted by that party in 1932 and proclaimed as a covenant with the people to be faithfully kept."

"Certainly the league is not an adjunct of the New Deal party which for the moment has usurped control of the party of Jefferson, Jackson, Cleveland, and Wilson. It has not and will not contribute to any campaign fund."

WHILE the nations of Europe were worrying over the Spanish rebellion and the danger that it might bring about open rupture among the Fascist and anti-Fascist governments of the continent, steps were taken to assure peace. Germany and Italy accepted the invitation of Great Britain, France and Belgium to participate in a conference this fall from which it is hoped another and better Locarno pact will emerge.

No date for the conference has been set, but it was expected to be held either just before or soon after the meeting of the league of nations assembly in Geneva in September.

PEDRO ALBIZU CAMPOS, leader of the Puerto Rico Nationalist party, and seven of his associates were found guilty at San Juan of a conspiracy to overthrow the United States government in the island by force and were sentenced by Federal Judge R. A. Cooper to prison terms ranging from two to six years. In the first trial of these men the jury had disagreed.

The case originated in a clash between Nationalists and police last October in which several persons were slain. Following this, Col. E. Francis Riggs, chief of island police, was murdered, presumably in revenge for the killing of Nationalists in the October fight.

Halter Neck, Princess Lines, Capes

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

A NEW party dress this time of year brings two-fold joy. There's the fun of rounding out the summer season of social activities in lovely array and then when midseason dances and dinners are over, its off to college where the fun begins all over again for your dress will take on new glamor in new environment. Therefore, it would reason out that a party dress bought now is not an extravagance but an economy since it provides not only for the present, but for the future as well.

The gowns pictured have smart features that are scheduled to carry through into late fall, since their styling is decidedly advance. The skirt of the lovely flowered chiffon dress on the seated figure is that full and billowy it floats beguilingly with every move of its fair wearer. The halter neckline is especially significant together with the Margot ruff about the throat. The halter neckline is appearing right along on incoming fashions.

Designers are all enthusiasm over the new princess lines that are destined to play an outstanding role this coming season both for dresses and coats. The charming gown centered in the picture adopts princess lines that develop into a full hemline. The perfectly gorgeous mousseline de soie that fashions this delectable gown is in an appealing shade of blue with huge golden flowers artfully wide-spaced as are most of the more formal prints this season. This handsome quality-high silk mousseline confirms the message from fabric headquarters that silks of extreme luxury and elegance will triumph in the coming modes.

The flair for all white in the evening is reflected in the ensemble to the right. An alabaster white silk sheer was the choice for this supremely lovely costume created by Reville. The waistband is fastened with a silver Grecian clasp. The prestige of capes in the evening mode is noted, and knowing style creators declare they will continue to play their triumphant role as the new season comes on. The word that fashion is reviving the use of ostrich is confirmed in the opulent banding of white South African ostrich feathers that embellish this cape. Not only, according to indications, will ostrich appear on hats but a lavish use will be made of it for costume accessories and other adornment.

In fact the trend for fall and winter apparel for the social season is toward superbly rich effects in every direction, especially in the new silks and metal weaves of classic tone. Jewelled and beaded embroidery will glitter on crepes and other gorgeous silks. The newest gesture is handpainted done in silver and gold and bronze, borrowing ideas for motifs from Chinese, Persian, Egyptian and other Far East art sources.

A theme of absorbing interest is the new gowns fashioned of black satin for dinner and evening wear. They are in decided contrast to the fluffy ruffles type of shimmer and sheer frocks. The idea is to make them up classically simple. Of course, the satin must be of sterling pure silk weave to successfully sound the luxury note. A favorite styling is similar to that of the flowery silk mousseline gown just described as being cut along princess lines that assume a wide flare at the hemline with the neckline emphasizing the very new square cut. With these satin gowns most glamorous bracelets, rings and clips are worn, withholding ornamentation of any other sort. If you would be "first in fashion" a black satin dress of this type will assure you this coveted distinction.

© Western Newspaper Union.

FOR SCHOOL WEAR

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

In every back-to-school wardrobe there should be at least one dress of light weight wool. Light in weight but warm enough for coolish days, the sheer wool used to make this beautifully tailored two-piece frock makes it equally acceptable for business, campus or spectator sports wear. A two-color print chiffon scarf tucks inside the high round collar. The front closing is achieved with composition buttons matching the shade of the frock.

FEATHERS IN YOUR HAT THIS AUTUMN

Now comes a word about fall hats. Higher crowns and off the face lines in brimmed style are being shown. One advance model developed in black leghorn for late summer, and in velvet for fall, has a turned-up brim, cleverly slit at the back and trimmed with a dark gray ostrich feather.

Feathers are coming into the conversation, too — and how they will increase our vocabularies! Our plumage, it seems, is to be one of our most important autumn features. We'll be using the term "Coq feathers" again, and "coquille." The former are the tail feathers of a rooster, and the latter is a short body feather of a goose. There are "Palette" and "Satinette" and a lot more to learn with the new season, along with the fact that we'll be formalized by ostrich plumes.

Buttons Now Offer Style

Touch for Any Old Costume Seekers of the latest in accessories for the modern well dressed woman are missing an important bet if they don't make a special point of keeping close watch on the button market.

Every trip to the stores should include a stop at that most fascinating of all counters where buttons of all colors, shapes and sizes are tucked away in hundreds of little drawers.

Since color is so important in accessories, buttons of the new vivid scarlets and blues, emerald greens, and lemon yellows, or of the multiple other intriguing colors, might be just the proper touch for the revivification of last year's clothes.

Farmer Loses Home, Moves Into a Cave

Beebe, Ark.—Frank Lee, Cleburne county fisher and trapper, claims to be Arkansas' only cave dweller, as he recently completed remodeling a huge cavern into a home.

The cave, one of many that can be found in a rock bluff more than 1,000 feet long and 75 feet high, is 60 feet square, with an opening measuring 10 by 8 feet.

Using rough lumber, Lee has made a door which can be swung open to admit sunlight and fresh air in the winter and cool breezes in the summer.

Lee, a bachelor, lost his farm by foreclosure and decided on the cave home.

DOGS' DUDE RANCH OFFERS EVERYTHING

About All That's Lacking Is Cocktail Bar.

Pasadena, Calif.—A dude ranch for dogs is the West's latest contribution to modern civilization. The idea was that of Gladys Shipman, dog fancier of this city.

Inspired by the stories of the eastern human dudes who visit dude ranches of the West, she conceived the idea that dude dogs should have the same privileges as dude humans.

So she opened her dude ranch for dogs at Big Bear lake. Already it is a going concern. The dogs don't have much to say about whether they get to go there, but once they get there they have lots to say about what a dude ranch for dogs really means to them.

The dude ranch is described as being a veritable seventh heaven for dogs. They have regular working activities such as hunting, hiking and sun-bathing.

There is a special play yard for pups. There is also a maternity ward, painted in blue and white, with private apartments and runways for each dog.

At present a special diet kitchen is turning out from 300 to 400 pounds of scientifically balanced rations daily, containing all the necessary dog vitamins, mineral salts and other elements essential to real dog life.

Goat milk is given preference over cow's milk and special diets of tomato juice and buttermilk are arranged for boarders whose health demands special attention.

In fact, about the only thing lacking that is found in the big dude ranches of the West is the cocktail lounge.

The dude ranch for dogs has among its prominent patrons Harold Lloyd, who has a Swiss imported Saint Bernard; the Duncan sisters, who own dancing dogs; Carlington North of the Columbia studios, who owns a Russian wolfhound, and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hilton, who have a private corral for their flock of imported black Newfoundland.

Iron Bar Falls, Tears

Shirt but Misses Worker

Bonneville, Ore.—The "crowbar case," famous in medical history, nearly had another one to rival it here in what is probably the outstanding freak accident on the Bonneville dam.

A concrete worker was standing on a heavy timber at the base of one of the piers in the main spillway dam. Above him a crew was stripping forms from the pier top, 60 feet from the ground. One of the strippers accidentally dropped his crowbar, a five-foot straight pointed bar.

It dropped like an arrow, pierced the brim of the concrete worker's hat, shot down between his heavy coat and his underwear, and literally pinned him to the timber when it came out of the seat of his trousers and stuck in the wood.

The point of the bar was buried more than three inches in the heavy timber, yet it had not touched the man's skin. He was treated at the emergency hospital for shock.

Train Waits for Collie

Playing on the Tracks

Alpena, Mich.—A collie dog was playing on the tracks here recently when a north-bound train pulled out to leave the city. The engineer stopped the train to wait for the dog to leave the tracks, but the collie kept on with its play.

Several minutes elapsed and finally the train edged toward the dog, but this failed to frighten the collie. Finally the dog gave the train the right of way.

Cat Is Spry at 23

Portland, Ore.—Charles Huiras of Canby claims the feline longevity record for his cat, "Old Tom," who is twenty-three and still going strong as far as rodent catching and dog-challenging are concerned.

Current Kills Rattles

Dillon, Mont.—Electric "prod poles" which get their kick from batteries are now being used in hunting rattlesnakes. The last organized hunt here reaped a harvest of 65 rattlesnakes.

"The Man Who-o-o"
Tales and Traditions from American Political History
BY FRANK E. HAGAN
AND ELMO SCOTT WATSON

A SPEECH OF NOMINATION
MOST of the reason for the title of these little stories—The Man Who—is supplied by the orators at political conventions who place the name of candidates in nomination.

Today from the loudspeakers come to most of us convincing talks, startlingly free of modesty, which extol the virtues of this favorite son or that one as his name is placed before convention delegates.

But the most successful of these nominating speeches occurred long before static was a household word. It was made in Chicago at the Republican convention of 1880 by James A. Garfield, and made honestly, in behalf of the nomination of John Sherman.

Its net result was that Sherman failed to win the nomination but Garfield succeeded. So that Garfield, later a martyred President, actually is the man who nominated himself.

Here is how it happened. President Hayes had pledged himself not to be a candidate. When the convention opened it was plain that great efforts would be made to nominate General Grant for a third term. James G. Blaine was a formidable candidate but Grant had been presented in a glowing burst of oratory from Roscoe Conkling, a bitter enemy of Blaine.

Garfield's speech in behalf of Sherman followed Conkling's effort. Instead of qualifying merely as an anti-climax it is described by those who were there as an outstanding oratorical triumph.

Grant, Blaine, Sherman, George F. Edmunds, Elihu B. Washburne and William Windom divided the votes until the thirty-fourth ballot. Then Garfield, whose speech still resounded in the minds of the delegates, received 17 votes.

He immediately took the floor and protested that he was there only in the interests of Sherman, whose candidacy he managed. He was ruled out of order. On the next ballot his strength had increased to 50 votes. On the thirty-sixth ballot, with 399 votes, he received the nomination which his epochal speech had asked for another man.

ORIGINAL STEAM-ROLLER

THE steam-roller may not cover ground with the speed of an antelope, but it gets there just the same.

First of the steam-roller tacticians to appear on the American political scene was the illustrious Marcus A. Hanna of Ohio, whose effective maneuverings behind the scenes still serve as an outstanding lesson in the political primer. Steam-roller methods of attaining the objective, which in this case was the nomination of William McKinley for President, were first utilized by Mark Hanna in the Republican convention of 1896. And they succeeded.

Hanna had observed the amazing switch of delegates to James A. Garfield in 1880 when the latter was earnestly and honestly pleading the cause of John Sherman of Ohio. Sherman tried again in 1888, this time employing McKinley as his convention manager.

At one stage of the proceedings, the report spread that if McKinley would say the word the strength of the delegates would be thrown to him. He promptly put an end to the movement, his vigorous interruption of the roll-call, for he already had received a vote, ending with a demand that: "No delegate who would not cast reflection upon me shall cast a ballot for me."

Hanna was impressed, as were many others. From that day he moved his support from Sherman, who had been defeated three times, and began to groom McKinley for the presidency.

The opportunity came in 1896. When the convention met, only "regular" delegates were seated. The national committee o.k'd them, one by one, by the vote of 35 to 15. And it just happened they all were McKinley men.

Newspaper reports of the times describe the proceedings as a farce. But at any rate they were successful for McKinley's principal opponent was courting the southern vote, many of whom could not prove an unbroken chain of party fealty, and therefore were not seated.

The result was an outstanding majority for McKinley on the first ballot, Thomas B. Reed of Maine running a tired second, flattened under the weight of the original steam-roller, today an accepted part of our national politics.

© Western Newspaper Union.

Little Things

Little things! Life and death, prosperity and ruin, happiness and misery, hang upon little things; they are like the linch-pin to the wheel, on which depends the safety of the vehicle; they are like the rudder to the vast mass which it guides; like the slender nerves to the hollow muscles.

Water Carried for Miles to Thirsty Cattle

A common scene now in the central New York farm district is that of farmers hauling water from reservoirs many miles away to save the lives of their parched stock. Here is Bert Cardwell, of Onondaga Hill, filling up a tank for his cattle. All springs and wells in the district went dry as the result of the greatest dry spell in the history of the country.

BEDTIME STORY FOR CHILDREN

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

JERRY HAS A SAD AWAKENING

THE stranger had visited the Smiling Pool as he had been doing for more than a week. Jerry Muskrat had kept right on working on his house. All the time he had kept a bright eye on the stranger to see what he was doing. As usual the stranger visited each of Jerry's favorite eating places. It seemed to Jerry that he was at each a little longer than usual, but Jerry didn't think anything of that.

Just as soon as the stranger had left Jerry swam straight over to a certain old log which lay half in the water and half on the bank. He

air. He lost his balance and fell off the old log. Then he tried to scramble away. He couldn't. Something was holding him by his tail and pinching it most dreadfully. Jerry was too frightened to think. He couldn't imagine what dreadful thing had got him. He pulled and pulled until it seemed to him that he must pull his tail out by the roots. Finally he twisted around to see what held him. It was a trap! The stout cruel jaws of it were gripping his tail about an inch from the end.

Then Jerry understood. He awakened to the truth, and it was a sad awakening. That stranger was a trapper after all. He had been putting those good things there for Jerry so that he would get so used to finding them that his suspicions would be put to sleep. When he was quite sure that Jerry had grown careless and was no longer suspicious of traps he had placed a trap on that old log just under water.

If Jerry had climbed up on that old log as usual he would have stepped in that trap and been felt sure that on the upper part of that old log he would find some pieces of apple or carrot. He wasn't disappointed. His nose told him they were there even before he could see them. Now ordinarily Jerry climbed right up that old log out of the water, but this time he didn't. It just happened so, that was all. He climbed out on the bank beside the log and then up on the log. There he sat down and began to eat. My, how good those pieces of apple and carrot did taste! You see, Jerry had been working very hard and he had a splendid appetite.

Finally He Twisted Around to See What Held Him. It Was a Trap.

At first he sat facing the water. After a while he changed his position so that his back was to the water and his tail dropped down in the water where it covered the lower part of that old log.

Snap! With a squeal of pain and fright Jerry jumped right up in the

The Kitchen Cabinet

VARIOUS GOOD THINGS

HERE is a cottage cheese pie that everybody will like, because it is different:

Beat three eggs, add one cupful of cottage cheese, nine tablespoonfuls of sugar, one cupful of freshly grated coconut, one teaspoonful of nutmeg, a cupful of coconut milk and a cupful of rich milk, or use as much of the milk as the nut contains and add enough cow's milk to make two cupfuls of liquid. Add a pinch of salt and more sugar if it is not sweet enough. A grating of lemon peel may be used instead of the nutmeg if that is not liked. Pour into a deep pastry lined pie plate and bake as for custard pie.

Crisp Molasses Cookies

Take two and one-half cupfuls of pastry flour, one-fourth cupful of bread flour, one teaspoonful each of baking powder and salt, two teaspoonfuls of ginger, then sift all again. Heat one cupful of molasses, add one-half cupful of butter and two teaspoonfuls of soda. Add the flour gradually and when well mixed, chill. Roll very thin and cut with a cookie cutter. Bake ten minutes.

Orange Sponge Cake

Beat two egg yolks with four tablespoonfuls of orange juice and one-half tablespoonful of lemon juice until thick; mix three-fourths of a cupful of sugar with one-half teaspoonful of grated orange rind

Eve's Epigrams

Every Woman aims to be attractive enough to distract every Man she meets.

ANNABELLE'S ANSWERS

By RAY THOMPSON

DEAR ANNABELLE: IS IT TRUE THAT A BACHELOR IS ONE WHO DOESN'T UNDERSTAND WOMEN?

"KO-KETTE."
DEAR "KO-KETTE": NO—HE'S A BACHELOR BECAUSE HE DOES UNDERSTAND THEM!
Annabelle.

ALL THE SAD

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

WE TALK so much about the mass,
As though the lowly were a class,
The high exempted from all care.
I stood beside a casket where
A rich man lay. I heard the sob
Of her whom death had come to rob;
It seemed to sound, that sob of pain,
Much like a widow's in a lane.

However money may appear,
There is no difference in a tear
Nor in the heartbreak of a wife.
All men are rich, all who have life,
All men are poor, whom life has fled.

For who would rather lie there dead
Within a silver casket than
To walk abroad, earth's poorest man?

To one great class my heart goes out:

The lover who has cause to doubt,
The woman with a widow's weeds,
Whatever heart however bleeds—
And you will find them, rich or poor,

Within the mansion, on the moor.
I wish our talk of classes had
Room for them all, for all the sad.

© Douglas Malloch.—WNU Service.

For Sports Wear

Navy blue and white plaid novelty crepe makes the box coat in this smart spectator sports outfit. The dress of white novelty crepe is made with a pleat down the front and goes in the skirt.

Mount Ararat Twin-Peaked

Mount Ararat is a twin-peaked mountainous area situated where Armenia and Persia meet, south of the Caucasus range. It is noteworthy for its extensiveness rather than its height, the highest peak being something under 17,000 feet. The mountain is of volcanic origin. Its lower regions are inhabited and the summits have been repeatedly ascended and thoroughly explored. The usual statement that Noah's Ark rested on Mount Ararat has no foundation in the Hebrew text, which reads "on the mountains of Ararat." In ancient times Ararat was the name of a district in eastern Armenia, and sometimes also for all Armenia and the mountain ridge in the southern part of that country.

British Blow Up Jaffa Danger Zone

This unusual picture shows houses in Jaffa, Palestine, being blown into the air by the force of an explosion. In one week 150 houses in the old city were blown up by British troops as part of their plan for the defense of Palestine. Steel helmeted troops armed with machine guns surrounded the old city during the operation.

Foreign Words and Phrases

Abusus non tollit usum. (L.) Abuse is no argument against the proper use of anything.
Auri sacra fames. (L.) Avarice is a sacred goddess.
Bon chien chasse de race. (F.) A good dog hunts from instincts; blood will tell.
Coute que coute. (F.) At any cost.
Lite pendente. (L.) During the trial.
Esprit des lois. (F.) The spirit of the law.
Favete linguis. (L.) Avoid uttering ill-omened words; maintain silence.
Modus operandi. (L.) A mode of operating.
Pot-pourri. (F.) A hotch-potch; a medley.

Week's Supply of Postum Free
Read the offer made by the Postum Company in another part of this paper. They will send a full week's supply of health giving Postum free to anyone who writes for it.—Adv.

Thrift

Thrift means self-denial; to save one must sacrifice.

Rub Cuticura Ointment into scalp—leave overnight—then wash with rich lathering, medicated Cuticura Soap. Helps clear out dandruff, relieves itchy scalp and promotes lustrous hair growth. Start the Cuticura treatment today. FREE Sample—write "Cuticura" Dept. 32, Malden, Mass.

WEALTH AND HEALTH

Good health and success go together. Don't handicap yourself—get rid of a sluggish, acid condition with tasty Milnesia, the original milk of magnesia in wafer form. Each wafer equals 4 teaspoonfuls milk of magnesia. Neutralizes acids and gives you pleasant elimination. 20c, 35c & 60c sizes.

Rid Yourself of Kidney Poisons

DO you suffer burning, scanty or too frequent urination; backache, headache, dizziness, loss of energy, leg pains, swellings and puffiness under the eyes? Are you tired, nervous—feel all unstrung and don't know what is wrong?

Then give some thought to your kidneys. Be sure they function properly for functional kidney disorder permits excess waste to stay in the blood, and to poison and upset the whole system.

Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are for the kidneys only. They are recommended the world over. You can get the genuine, time-tested Doan's at any drug store.

DOAN'S PILLS

Don't Endure PAINFUL PILES

No matter how long you have been troubled with Piles you should try this amazing new home treatment. Stops pain, bleeding, itching or burning, and aids healing of raw tissues. Send 10c today to cover handling and mailing of trial package. W. ROBERTS—WILLIAMS COMPANY 948 Market Street - San Francisco

UNIQUE FOR REAL CONVENIENCE

Whether you visit San Francisco for fun or for finance, for business or for pleasure, you'll be amazed and pleased to find a great hotel covering two acres where five principal streets meet—the famous Palace Hotel. Here the financial, shopping, theatre, and wholesale districts meet—literally!

600 rooms, each with bath, from $3 per day (single) up.

The PALACE HOTEL

"In the Heart of San Francisco"

Archibald H. Price, Manager

The Ocean Beach News

ISSUED EVERY FRIDAY AT
1922 BACON STREET, OCEAN BEACH, CALIFORNIA

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
One year, in advance $2.00 Six months, in advance $1.00

AN INDEPENDENT PAPER

Entered as second-class matter December 1, 1922, at the post office at Ocean Beach, San Diego, Cal., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

H. H. HARTVIGSEN.....Editor and Publisher

Legalized as an Official San Diego City and County Newspaper Promoting the Progress of the Beach Sections of San Diego and the Entire Point Loma Peninsula.

ADVERTISING RATES

CLASSIFIED ADS—Ten cents per line of eight point type for the first insertion and five cents per line each subsequent insertion.
LOCAL READERS—Fifteen cents a line for the first insertion and ten cents per line each subsequent insertion.
DISPLAY ADVERTISING—Rates upon application.
Ad copy should be in the office by Wednesday noon.
Classified, transient and political ads PAYABLE IN ADVANCE

Would Be Good Judgment To Elect Hastings

Primary election draws near and where there are a number of candidates in the field the contest has been lively. Many are not fitted for the office they seek, while others may be fitted, and yet have as an opponent another who is more capable with a great deal more experience. This latter commodity in any line of endeavor should be highly valued.

Partisan lines in the primary will count for little but in the November election in national and state offices should be considered more carefully in order that the President will have the support of Congress and the Senate.

While every office should be considered carefully for the selection of its incumbent, the paramount problem for the first supervisorial district, is the re-election of EDGAR F. HASTINGS, present chairman of the board of supervisors, for he is best suited of the five candidate in the field. He has the experience, the vision, the character, the ability, and every qualification to fill the office in a manner satisfactory to the great majority of his constituents.

VOTE FOR ED HASTINGS—ELECT HIM AT THE PRIMARY

THE THEOSOPHICAL SOCIETY: POINT LOMA

"The Theosophical Society: Its Place in the World" is the subject which will be discussed next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Temple of Peace, Theosophical Headquarters by Boris de Zirkoff, young Russian lecturer of headquarters staff on Point Loma.

"It should be born in mind," says Mr. de Zirkoff, "that the Theosophical Society is not merely an association of benevolent men and women bent upon a philanthropic work in one or another field of human thought. It is an outer court through which the earnest student can enter into an inner school of Mysteries, essentially similar in purpose and teachings to the Mystery Schools of ancient times."

The lecturer will outline the world conditions at the time of the initiation of the modern Theosophical movement, showing how it was but one link in the chain of similar spiritual efforts that have existed down through the ages in various parts of the world. He will also enumerate and develop the objectives of the Society, his purpose being to make clear the place the organization has in the present scheme of civilized life.

At the conclusion of the address, questions and comments relating to any part of the Theosophical work will be welcome from members of the audience. The public is cordially invited to be present and participate in the forum-discussion.

ELECT
THE
WOMAN
TO THE ASSEMBLY
78th DISTRICT

VOTE
for

MRS. JEANETTE E.
DALEY

for a NEW DEAL in the
STATE CAPITAL AT SACRAMENTO

Mrs. Jeanette Daley

X

The San Diego-Imperial

Candidate for Congress
Elmer W. Heald

Heald....

is the Republican Candidate best qualified to serve and promote the mutual interests of San Diego and Imperial Counties.

VOTE FOR HEALD

Mission Beach Personals

(Beth V. Paynter, correspondent)
(Tel. Pacific Beach 425 or 433)

Mr and Mrs H G Zeuner and daughter, Jean, enjoyed a ten-days' vacation at Catalina and Arrowhead.

Mrs L C Kellenberger and Mrs G Johnson have returned from a two-weeks' vacation at Lake Elsinore. Mrs Carolyn Gant and daughter Eunice, of Wichita, Kansas, are guests of the Kellenbergers.

Mr and Mrs William Kenneth Claypool announce the birth of a son August 5 at Scripps Memorial hospital. Mr and Mrs Claypool reside in Ohio. Mrs Claypool has been spending the summer with her mother, Mrs Hagerman of 3864 Strandway.

Jack Kennedy accompanied Mrs L D Carroll of Crown Point to Newport last week taking up the Carroll craft, 'The Bobbie'. Mr Carroll who was in Newport, accompanied them home.

Mrs J Leigh of Pomona has been visiting her sister, Mrs W H Garnham of San Jose place for the past week.

Mr and Mrs Ed Fletcher, jr who are summering at 720 Vanatie ct, announce the birth of a son, Lawrence Burke, August 10 at Mercy hospital.

Mrs K E Driskel who has been visiting Dr and Mrs Albert Jumbblatt for the past month left last week for her home in Oklahoma. Mrs Driskel is Mrs Jumbblatt's sister.

Mr and Mrs James T Van Rensselaer, who have been summering on Palomar mountain, returned Sunday to their new home on Nantasket court.

Mr and Mrs Robert Honey, former residents of Mission Beach, spent the past week here.

Mrs Ruth Douglas is visiting her mother in Los Angeles over this week-end.

Mrs. Esther Gould is the guest of Mr Gould's parents, Dr and Mrs Arthur Gould.

Mr and Mrs Francis Ide who have been living at 825 Seagirt court for the past year have moved to La Mesa pending the completion of their new home in Grossmont.

El Club de Lectura will meet tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs Charles Litchfield.

The regular meeting of St. Andrews-the-Sea has been postponed until the first Tuesday in September, due to so many of the members being on vacation.

A camping party including Ralph Kinnings, Neil Butler, Walter Tichenor and Dorian Paskowitz spent the week-end at Sorrento.

Mr and Mrs Herbert Key who have been honeymooning at 3803 Ocean Front left yesterday for Catalina and later, Yosemite. They will stop at these resorts for a few weeks before going on to their new home in San Francisco. Mrs Key, until their recent marriage, was Miss Kathryn Haag.

John Spring of Rochester, New York is visiting Mrs Louis Krotzsch at her home, 736 York court. Mrs L R Loughborough, Mrs Krotzsch's sister, with her daughter, Mrs Willis Farnum have also been guests of Mrs Krotzsch. Mrs Loughborough entertained with a dinner for her daughter prior to the latter's departure to join her husband in Helena, Montana.

The Altar Society of Mission Beach holds a buncle party the first Monday evening in each month at the home of Mr and Mrs John Chambers on the ocean front. The public is invited, proceeds to go to the benefit of the Sacred Heart church in Ocean Beach. The afternoon of the fourth Wednesday in each month, members of the Altar Society gather at the Chambers home to sew for the Christmas bazaar.

The Northshore Toastmaster's club met Monday evening with Richard Barnes as toastmaster of the evening. Each member gave a one-minute talk on "Current Events or Anything". Eight-minute speeches were made by Verne O. Gehringer, "The American Legion-What and Why"; Richard Jackson, "The Causes of Unrest in Palestine"; George E. Bryans, "This Modern Day". Critics were Willis J. Kenline, Glenn O Thraikill and Franklin G Clark, with Wallace A Walter, general critic. Captain Messer gave

We Honestly Recommend and Urge Our Friends to Vote For HASTINGS For Supervisor 1st District

Signed:

Mr. and Mrs. JOHN ALFORD
Mr. and Mrs. GEORGE B. KENLINE
Mr. and Mrs. HEBER H. HARTVIGSEN
Dr. and Mrs. I. W. PARKS
Mr. and Mrs. WM. E. NELSON
Mr. and Mrs. FRANCIS WISDOM
Dr. and Mrs. W. B. LEONARD
Mr. and Mrs. CLAUDE NOORDA
Dr. and Mrs. J. W. WILHOIT
Mr. and Mrs. LEROY W. LEE
Mr. and Mrs. GEORGE E. BRYANS
Mr. and Mrs. GEORGE N. SPEER
Mr. and Mrs. EARL J. HAAS

Mrs. LILLIAN DODDS
Mrs. MARY VARNEY
Mrs. MAUDE WATERS
Mrs. ERNA BARKS
Mrs. MINNIE CLARK
Mrs. MAUDE M. STUART
Mrs. FRANCES HOPKINS
Mrs. J. O. ALBRIGHT
Mrs. EDNA BURDETTE
Mrs. J. WHALEN
Mrs. ALBERT FOSS
Mrs. MARY M. NEAR

ELMER E. STEELE
J. L. HILLIARD
NORRIS NEWMAN
HUGH REYNOLDS
JIM BOWKER
E. G. BECHTEL
MARSHALL MALCOLM
MILTON SCHACHTEBECK
LOGAN RUGGLES
C. L. LEWIS

and dozens of others whose names space will not permit publication herewith.

(This advertisement paid for by friends of Edgar Hastings.)

DRIVE CAREFULLY

The first of a series of drive carefully signs, being placed at vantage points about the beach cities, will be dedicated Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the corner of Voltaire and Mendocino sts., Ocean Beach, by the local American Legion post. Ralph G. Chadwick, past commander of the post, and chairman of the "Safe Drivers' club" of the organization, has things in readiness for the dedication.

Merkeley's Musical Maids will furnish music for the occasion, beginning at 2 p.m. Sat. Aug. 22, and all veterans, citizens and others interested in the safety of the beach children and the safety in operating motor cars and other vehicles, are cordially invited to attend. Edgar F. Hastings, supervisor of the district; Mayor Benbough, the city and county officials, and several traffic officials of the state, county and city are being invited.

Ocean Beach Post No. 433, American Legion, has secured from state headquarters, a number of the signs, which asks all who see it to drive carefully and protect Ocean Beach children. Logan E. Ruggles, commander of the local post, will be master of ceremonies. All post members are urged to be at the scene of the dedication at 1:30 p.m. Saturday, and assist in final arrangements for the placing of the metal sign on a redwood post.

Members of the beach post auxiliary unit also are asked to participate, a message from The Toastmaster's International Convention held at Santa Barbara, August 15.

The Mission Beach Parent-Teachers' association is planning an active year with the following new officers and committee chairmen: President, Mrs H G Lynch; 1st vice president, Mrs G Strickman; 2nd vice president, Mrs E T Urban; secretary, Mrs R H Johnson; treasurer, Mrs C L Shapers; parliamentarian, Mrs M H Gleason; publicity, Mrs G Strickman; membership, Mrs J F Vaughn; financial and budget, Mrs H G Zeuner; publications and art, Mrs C L Shapers; hospitality, Mrs J H Jahries; ways and means, Mrs E T Urban; juvenile protection, Mrs S J Penwarden; better films, Mrs M H Gleason.

Now Equipped for STEAM Cleaning
WASHING and POLISHING

Your Auto

Sunshine Service Stat'n

GLEN JONES, Proprietor

Phone Bayview 9244

1946 Bacon St. Ocean Beach

BEACH LEGION POST SPONSORS SWIM CLASS

Beginning Friday, August 21st, the Ocean Beach post 433 American Legion and auxiliary will sponsor an all year round swimming class every Friday evening thru the cooperation of the management of the Silver Spray plunge, at said plunge, and Mr. Spade Burns, noted instructor, will be in attendance to give swimming lessons to all persons desiring to take advantage of this offer. Everybody, both young and old, is cordially invited to accept this opportunity of learning to swim at a very nominal cost for admittance to the plunge and a club membership.

There will be classes for novices, advanced, life saving and every six weeks there will be competitive races with prizes for those who swim given distances. The first class will start promptly at 7 o'clock Friday evening and every Friday until further notice. For full particulars see Ralph G. Chadwick or Mr. Burns.

Vote for

"MIKE" WHALEN
Democratic County
Central Committeeman

as driving safely and the protection of life and property is one of the outstanding planks in the national legion platform. The corner where the sign is to be placed is a very conspicuous one and all who pass in motor cars can see it plainly. Others later are to be installed, Chadwick announced yesterday.

WEDNESDAY SEWING CLASS
While mothers sew at the Ocean Beach school bungalow Wednesday, August 24th, the recreation teacher will care for the kiddies, any hours between 9 to 3:30

VOTE FOR AND ELECT
Robert E.
"BOB"
GAUGHEN

County Assessor

FAIR
IMPAR-TIAL
FEAR-LESS
"Take the Assessment Rolls Out of Politics"
IMPARTIAL, FAIR
AND EQUITABLE ASSESSMENTS
16 Yrs. Tax and Assessment
Experience

Political Advertisement

The Tammany Tiger in the First District!!

San Diego has never been favorable to Tammany Hall methods of coercion and political "putting-the finger-down" ways of operation by machine politicians.

The First District is not favorable to these methods—because the First Supervisorial District IS NOT THAT KIND OF A DISTRICT!

The following paragraphs appeared in the San Diego Sun of July 29 in a special article on local issues written by the well-known L. E. Claypool—and the implication that Supervisor Edgar F. Hastings is using the $5 paid to election workers to force an extra day's work out of them FOR HIM ON COUNTY MONEY MUST AROUSE THE OPPOSITION OF EVERY VOTER IN THE DISTRICT.

Here is the claw of the Tammany Hall tiger in our district:

A member of the election board in the Point Loma district writes The Sun an interesting letter as follows:

"Is it customary in San Diego for a member of the election board to give one day's time for the election of the supervisor in that district? In the Point Loma district we have been asked to give one day for that purpose. In that case it seems to me it would be necessary for all board members to be of the same political organization.

"Where I have served before one was supposed to use their own judgment in voting; the 16 or 18 hours work we put in on the board was supposed to be what we were paid for. Understand, I am not protesting, as I need the day's work and appreciate it, but I am asking for information as so many others are asking the same question."

JAMES E. PARSONS

for

SUPERVISOR

Edgar F. Hastings is running for re-election to the Board of County Supervisors.

LET'S LOOK AT THE RECORD!

Edgar F. Hastings has held to the opinion, often expressed by him, that it is not the province of the Board or of himself to be concerned ABOUT ANYTHING IN THE CITY LIMITS OF SAN DIEGO.

Here's the result:

The Ocean Beach fishing pier, the most important public project for recreational purposes IN THE ENTIRE COUNTY, is still a dream.

What has Edgar F. Hastings done to further this project?

Has he brought it before the Board of Supervisors?

No!

Has he put his influence as a resident of the District and a Supervisor in the District behind that project in ANY WAY WHATSOEVER?

No!

Has he indicated in any way that he is interested in the Ocean Beach Fishing Pier to the extent of saying one word or doing one thing for it?

No!

What did Hastings do for the Mission Bay Development?

He told the Mission Bay Association that he could not be interested in anything in the city limits.

Did he not vote to appropriate $10,000 a few years ago to further this development?

He did, but only to smother the hue and cry in Ocean Beach that he knew was to follow his purpose OF VOTING MONEY FOR THE PURCHASE OF PARK LANDS ALL OVER THE COUNTY AFTER THE PEOPLE HAD TURNED DOWN THESE PURCHASES THREE TIMES AT THE POLLS!

What is the general opinion throughout the county of these purchases?

They are looked upon generally as the most flagrant misuse of power ever shown by any supervisorial body in California.

What else has Hastings done for the development of the Mission Bay area?

Absolutely and unqualifiedly nothing—and the proof of this will be given by any resident of the Mission Bay region, which includes all of Ocean Beach.

Did Hastings exert himself in any way to see that West Point Loma Boulevard be made a safe highway into Ocean Beach?

He did not.

What is the result?

The inadequate oiling of this boulevard has made it a death trap and has aroused the resentment of every resident of Ocean Beach.

What has Hastings done to open up adequate highways from Mission Hills to Ocean Beach?

Nothing—absolutely nothing.

What is the result?

Hundreds of thousands of dollars a year are lost to Ocean Beach and the entire Beach Area because residents of the entire heavily populated eastern section of San Diego will not drive through the narrow University Avenue and Washington Street bottle-necks to get to the beaches.

What percentage of county taxes are collected in the city?

Approximately 80 per cent.

What part of this does the First District, including Ocean Beach, contribute?

More than its fair share, for this is one of the richest sections of the city.

But if what Hastings says about his not being interested in anything in the city limits is the right attitude for him or for the Board of Supervisors, why should the First District, the Third District and the Fourth District, ALL WHOLLY WITHIN THE CITY LIMITS, pay taxes for the support of supervisors from those districts?

Let Hastings answer this one.

Because of the record of do-nothingism which has been the record of the present Supervisor from the First District during eight long years, the First District is going to make a change in that office. The First District is the Forgotten District. Its problems are urgent, and they have been growing greater with neglect. They must not be neglected further. Therefore, the friends of James E. Parsons throughout the First District are asking all the residents of this District to vote for Parsons on Aug. 25 TO THE END THAT THE FIRST DISTRICT BE ADEQUATELY AND DECENTLY REPRESENTED ON THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS AND THE FIRST DISTRICT BE GIVEN THAT BUSINESSLIKE AND COMPETENT SERVICE BY ITS SUPERVISOR THAT JAMES E. PARSONS, SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS MAN, CAN GIVE IT.

ALBERT DUMONT, Chairman.

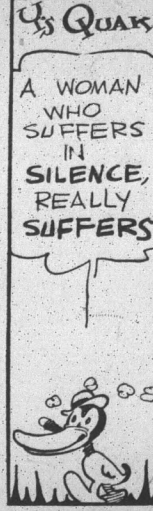

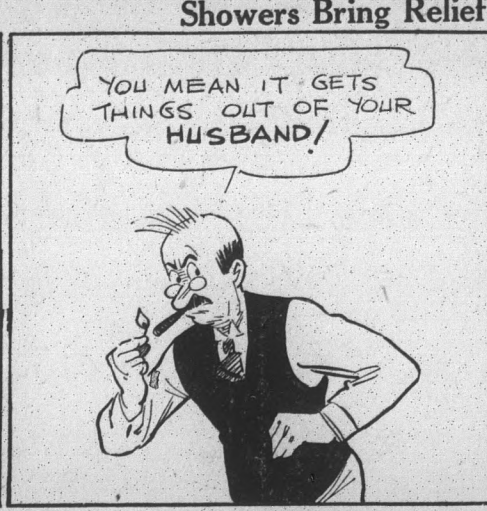

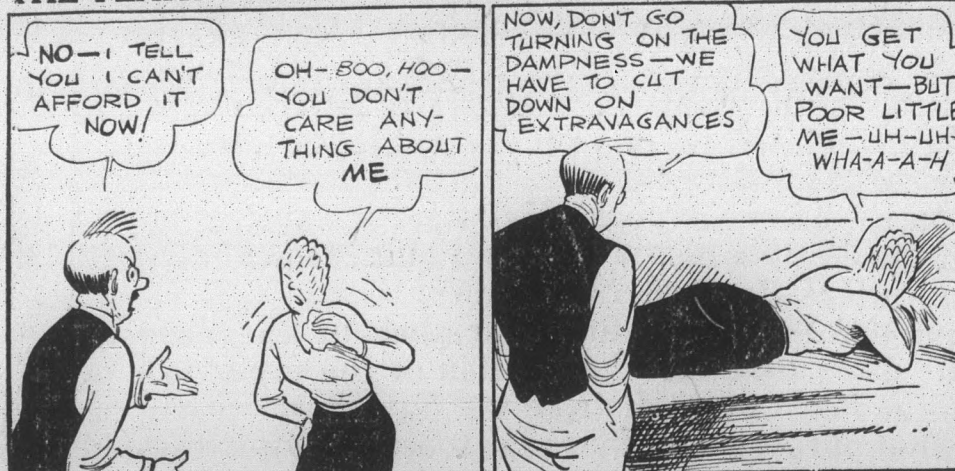

JAMES E. PARSONS Will Speak Over Radio Station K GB at 7 p. m., Saturday, August 22.

THE SUNNY SIDE OF LIFE

Clean Comics That Will Amuse Both Old and Young

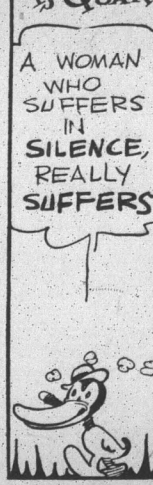

THE FEATHERHEADS

By Osborne
© Western Newspaper Union

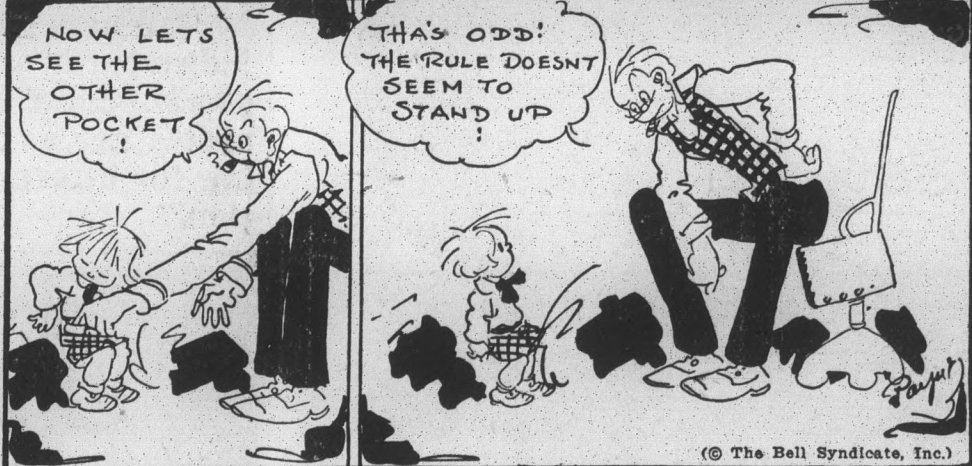

Showers Bring Relief

By QUAK

SMATTER POP—Is This Another Grammatical Error?

By C. M. PAYNE

MESCAL IKE

By S. L. HUNTLEY

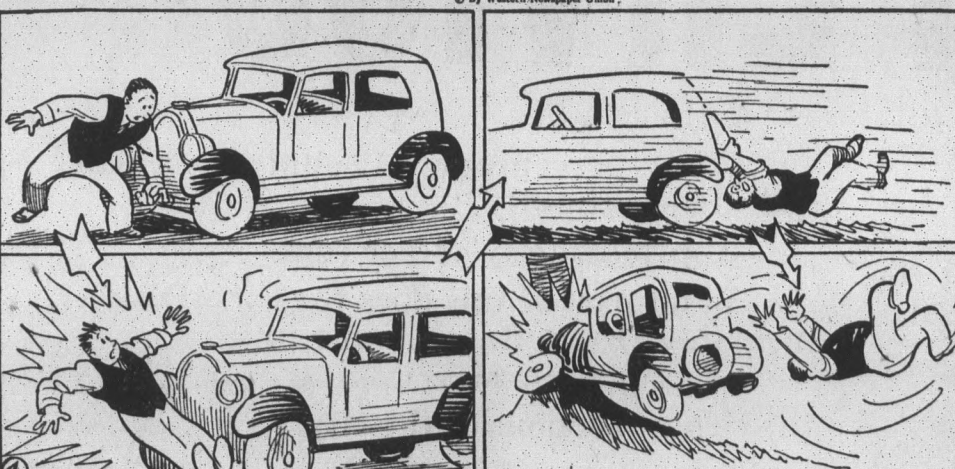

The Old Land Grabber

By S. L. HUNTLEY

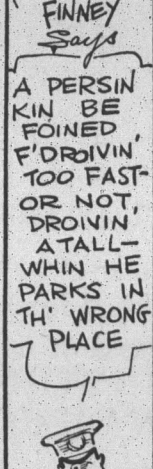

FINNEY OF THE FORCE

By Ted O'Loughlin
© By Western Newspaper Union

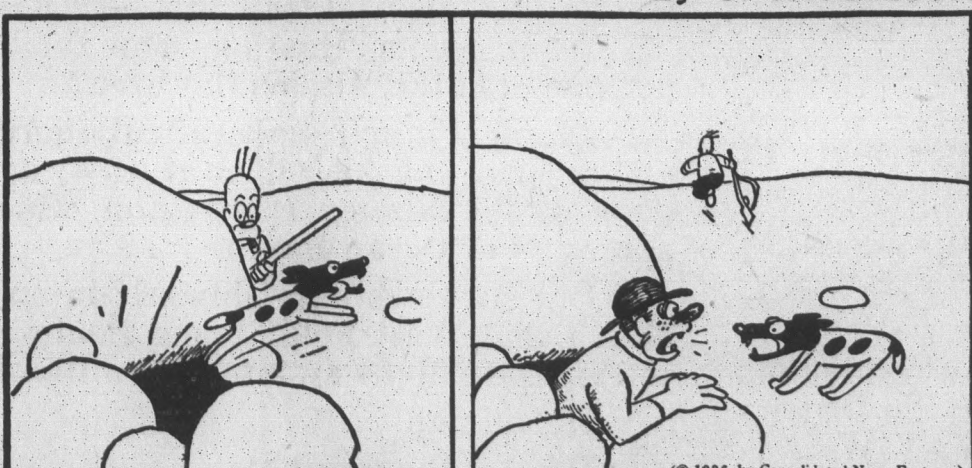

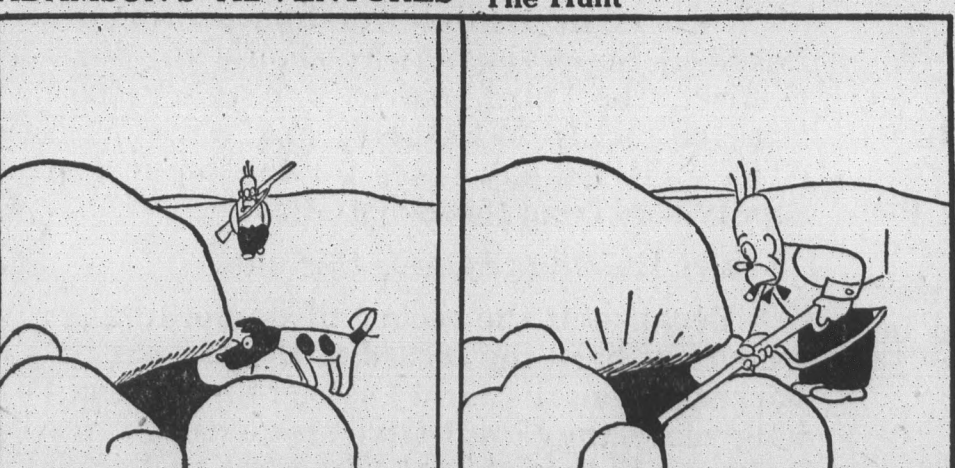

A Fine Point

By QUAK

ADAMSON'S ADVENTURES The Hunt

By O. JACOBSSON

The Curse of Progress

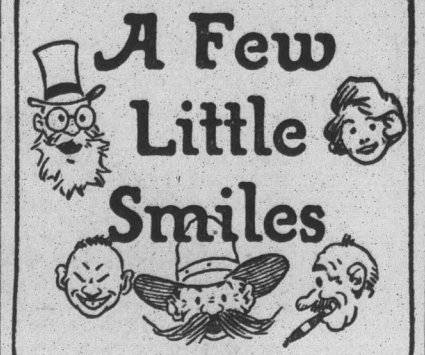

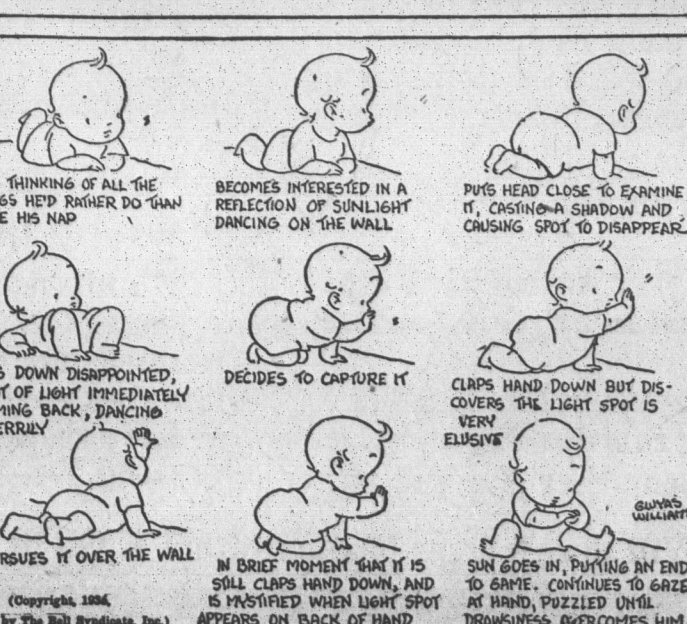

Smart
The officer took out his book and poised his stubby pencil. "What's your name?"
"John Smith."
"Yer real name," bawled the officer, who had been tricked before. "Well, then, put me down as William Shakespeare."
"That's better. Yuh can't fool me with that Smith stuff."

Nothing New
Adorer (nervously) — Isn't that your father's step on the stairs? Sweet Girl — Yes, but don't mind that; it's only a scare. He won't come down. He always stamps around that way when I sit up with young men after 11 o'clock.

Super Salesgirl
Mother—What happened when that high-pressure salesman called today?
Daughter—Oh, I sold him father's old clothes and all the discarded furniture in the attic.—Detroit Free Press.

THE SUN SPOT

By GLUYAS WILLIAMS

OLD CUSTOMER

A film actor gave the name of a clergyman as reference in a business transaction. The merchant phoned the clergyman and asked for particulars concerning the financial standing and reliability of his proposed customer.
"Indeed," said the clergyman, "I can give you no guarantee; I have merely a casual acquaintance with the man."
"That's strange," said the merchant. "He told me that he attended your church pretty regularly."
"He does," returned the clergyman. "He always gets me to marry him!"—Stray Stories Magazine.

OH, AH, JUST SO

"I'm sure that's better than being light in the head like you."

This Trick Worked

The chief was always being pestered by beggars. One man came every fortnight and could not be shaken off.

Chief—I ordered you not to let that man in!
Porter—Pardon me, sir, but he will not be refused.
Chief—If you knew what he wanted you would never admit him.
Porter—What does he want?
Chief—Your job.

Sweet Credulity

"A man who persists in mendacity can always find some one to believe him."
"Human nature is strangely hopeful," answered Miss Cayenne. "Whenever he brings along a new story you imagine that this time maybe you will catch him telling the truth by accident."

What the Tramp Saw

First Tramp—You wouldn't do with a mad dog what I saw the woman of that house doing with her baby.
Second Tramp—What did you see her doing?
First Tramp—I saw her kissing it.

Big-Hearted

"Ach, Sandy, the baby's swallowed a penny!"
"Well, let him ha'e it—tomorrow's his birthday."

Fatal Thrift

"Did you hear about the Scotch gangster getting killed?"
"He lit a bomb and hated to throw it away."

THAT FOR JIM

"There was no use."
"I know, but I always worry over trifles."

The Restless Mind

"You ought to take a day off and go fishing."
"No," answered the constable; "I'd rather stay in the office and think about fishing than be out in a fishing boat thinking about work."

Empty Like the Desert

First Girl—Where were you on your vacation?
Second Girl (listlessly) — Noman's land.—Buffalo Courier Express.

Uppers or Lower?

Little Willie—Mom, you said the baby has your eyes and daddy nose, didn't you?
Mother—Yes, darling.
Willie—Well, you better watch him, he has grandpa's teeth, now.

Coming Up

"How do you like your eggs served, sir?"
"Is there any difference price?"
"None whatever, sir."
"Then serve it on a slice of ham."

ew le les

OMER

the name of a ence in a busi-
The merchant
n and asked for ing the financial ity of his pro-clergyman, "I rantee; I have quaintance with said the mere that he at-pretty regular-

ed the clergy-me to marries Magazine.

ST SO

our feet, little better than be-like you."

Worked
ays being pesone man came could not be you not to let

e, sir, but he what he want-admit him.

he want?

lulity
sts in mendacsome one to

is strangely
Miss Cayenne.
s along a new ch him telling t."

mp Saw wouldn't do that I saw the doing with her at did you see

aw her kissing ted baby's swal-

'a'e it—tomor-drift out the Scotch ed?"

and hated to

JIM

about you las-
,"
ays worry ove-

Mind
ake a day o

the constarstay in the o at fishing the boat thinkin

the Desert were you c

lessly) — N. o Courier E.

owers?
you said it s and daddy

ing.
better wat-
a's teeth, nov

Up
ke your es difference

sir."
slice of ham

UNCONFESED

By MARY HASTINGS BRADLEY

Copyright by D. Appleton-Century Co., Inc. WNU Service

CHAPTER XV—Continued

"What I think," Mitchell expounded, "is that she followed Nora up to find out what she could about the row that had been going on—her eyes wouldn't miss that. And I think she went away because Dan came in. I think Letty knew Dan was in it, somehow, all the time. But she sat tight."

"She would," Deck answered.

"When Dan prompted her to ask for the cigarette case and feel of it, and have Clancy feel of it, he probably told her he was sure the diamond was hidden in it. She followed his lead all right, but when she saw how it worked out, when it came home to her just what the consequences were, when she heard him exulting over Deck's fate, then it all rather did for her for a moment. But only for a moment. Do our Letty that justice, Alan."

Deck nodded, unresentingly. "Oh, I could have tried in hell if that would have helped her get Dan."

"Donahy's talking to her now," said Mitchell. "She's pretty well shot to pieces, but I don't think she'll give Dan away."

Mitchell continued: "When Leila, here, brought out what Rancini had been up to with Anson—"

"That must have tickled Dan pink," Deck interjected.

I interrupted by asking Mitchell when he had first suspected Harriiden.

His dark eyes twinkled. "Hard to say, now. . . . Thought it was you, Alan, at the beginning, but I tried to keep an open mind. . . . The radiator marks puzzled me. But I didn't see my way till I saw that play about the cigarette case and examined the cigarettes, and even then I didn't suspect the beginning of it—the andron, the dummy on the bed. I kept bothering over Anson's testimony."

They spoke of insanity as the defense. Mitchell thought it would end in mistrial. Deck conjectured that with all Harriiden's resources it would never come to trial.

"And I'm not so sure it wasn't insanity—the Anson part," said Mitchell. "No sane man would have choked that girl to death and put himself into such jeopardy over the little she had to tell. . . . Well, he may pull himself together and fight it out. You may be the one tried, after all. Don't lose hope, my lad."

We could banter about it. Reaction was strong in us. There comes a time when you are drained of horror, when in sheer self-preservation you revert to what is normal and gay. And in spite of all my pity for that hard, desperate man upstairs, my compassion for poor dead Anson, I was feeling now a very lively sense of relief and self-rejoicing.

We ate all the sandwiches; we drank all the coffee and we smoked innumerable cigarettes. Then Deck went to get himself another drink, and Monty Mitchell and I sat there, still talking.

He told me that he declined to take back a word about my foolishness but that he forgave it for the sake of my courage. "You stood up there, facing him, and put that scene together as if you were seeing it!"

He had stood there too. Beside me. Perhaps he was thinking of that, for he gave me a quick look and said, "By the way—how about that engagement of ours?"

"You were pretty sweet," I said. "Standing by." I realized that he had been beside me every moment in that house. I tried to say so.

"I'd like to take it on as a life job," he told me. And then, "I think I'm rather desperately in love with you, Leila Seton."

For a moment I just looked at him. His eyes, usually so gay with banter, held a bright, deep warmth.

"Am I too late?" he said, and it was strange to hear his voice sounding like that. "Is it Deck?"

I didn't say anything—I was too busy wondering at myself. For it was not Deck, the Alan Deck of my dreams, the man who had taken such possession of my sympathies. Deck was vivid, exciting, romantic—and he was ready. I felt instinctively, to play at love with me, to yield to a new glamor.

But I didn't want him. I was terribly sorry for him, for all the disillusion he had been through in his bitter passion for Nora Harriiden; I was fiercely protective for him against any danger he might be in through her death. I was ready to lie for him, to steal those letters—

But Deck, as a man, had grown substantial. He had simply not been there. He had shielded himself behind my explanations, he had been willing to use my sympathy on his behalf. He hadn't sprung to defend me as Mitchell had done; it hadn't been Deck who had crossed the room, before Harriiden's glaring eyes, to put his arm through mine. The comfort of that touch I would never forget.

Oh, Deck had been everything he ought to have been, but Mitchell had been so much more. And there was so much more to Mitchell.

I didn't think I liked handsome men any more, desperate reckless men who ran to you for sympathy. I was cured of them. I liked men with force and character and steadiness, with bantering gaiety and dark, quizzical eyes.

So I shook my head violently about Deck.

"You mean that?" Mitchell's voice leaped out at me, almost incredulously. "He's such a taking devil! Leila—"

He checked himself; he didn't touch me or make any speeches. He just said quietly, "Don't be grateful—or anything like that. But—if you could manage to—to learn to love me—"

"I do. I do now," I told him as assuredly as if I hadn't just found it out an instant before. I am stupid about words; I couldn't say anything of what I felt to him. I only sat there, breathless, looking at him, feeling my own happiness and his. . . .

And then Deck was back, his glass in his hand.

Monty jumped to his feet. "Here's a toast—we'll make it a loving cup," he cried and caught me by the hand, drawing me up beside him.

"To Leila—who loves a lawyer!"

"The glass in Deck's hand was motionless. He looked at me.

"No foolin'?"

I looked at him. "No foolin'."

Deck put the glass to his lips. He took a long drink. "Well, I'm glad for you, Monty, old chap, and I'm damn sorry for myself. . . . It's the hell of a world."

It was in the silence following that pronouncement that we heard the shot. The shot that Dan Harriiden had fired into his temple as he leaned over his wife's body, the shot that he would rather meet than the courtroom with its publicity and scandal—the shot that was the only confession he ever made.

THE END

Bob Davis Reveals

"Shores and Ships and Sealing Wax—" and Rickshas

PEIPING.

LEWIS CARROLL, author of "Alice in Wonderland," made for himself an enviable reputation by bailing up the language and injecting into his manuscript references that had nothing whatever to do with the story.

The caption on this column is designed along the Carroll lines, but the word "ricksha" really stands for something.

Roughly speaking, the last census report on rickshas accounted for 44,000 of the rubber-tired, two-wheeled, one-passenger vehicles, drawn by fleet-footed coolies capable of hauling human cargo on most any kind of a thoroughfare—asphalt preferred—at about the same rate of speed and with less noise than goes with the old-fashioned horse-driven cab.

In point of grace and luxury nothing has ever been invented that can compete with it or make a better showing along the boulevards where traffic streams.

Lot Is Not a Happy One.

While a spectacle of this sort fills the eye it seldom drifts into one's mind that the lot of the ricksha man is not a happy one. The easy loping stride of the man between the brass-mounted shafts, the three-foot bicycle wheels running silently on ball bearings, make Mercury and his machine a floating unit, gliding onward apparently without effort, but it never occurs to the casual observer that perhaps there is a limit to the physical endurance of the human animal swinging along with a human burden lolling under a pith helmet, pulling on a good sear and living the life of Riley.

Nothing so completely fits a white man for the indolent life as spending four or five hours a day in a ricksha. The very construction of the device invites a half-reclining posture; added to which the gentle oscillations, more soothing than any motion experienced from the cradle to the grave, produce a relaxation matched only by insensibility. A New England woman brought up to sit erect in a straight back hickory chair and hold herself like a Bunker Hill ramrod thinks nothing, after a week of rickshaing, of imitating Cleopatra on her chaise longue eyeing Mark Antony. A ricksha "sure do break down" one's resistance and makes a formal posture, coincident with good manners, quite a bore.

"Strut Sitting Down."

Old boys can't even get the nomination for county clerk back home look like senatorial timber after doing a stretch in an upholstered ricksha. And a tin horn sport who can't even get a kind glance from a head waitress, after a few spins between ricksha wheels has difficulty dispelling the rumor that he is Clark Gable. This, however, is not the case with residents of Peiping, who, having passed the inflation stage, are without bombast. Only the foreigners seem able to "strut sitting down," as some one once said of an unpopular statesman.

And the cost is nothing, compared with the sense of superiority with which the consumer is infected. For the small sum of $1, Mex., which here in Peiping means 35 cents in American spandulics, a thoroughbred high-stepping, first-class coolie ricksha boy can be hired for the day, which is understood to be 12 full hours, with such time for lunch as the patron, in the fullness of his enlarged heart, feels that he can surrender to his faithful foot servant. This rate holds good at $7 per week. Beyond that, the tariff falls to $20 a month, Mex., of course, which places the rick at your disposal practically when wanted, the boy actually haunting your headquarters awaiting orders.

Ricksha Boys Faithful.

A pet dog couldn't be more at your beck and call. The system solves the whole question of transportation throughout the city. For long distance trips, motor fares are comparatively low, yet there are some who have no hesitation about using ricks up to fifteen miles, or thirty miles round trip.

The average daily mileage of a ricksha boy is about twelve, ranging in special cases up to fifteen a day for all seasons except during snow fall, brief in this latitude, and hard on the ricksha boys, many of whom are unable to buy blankets with which to keep out the chill after a long lope. It is estimated that fifteen years is about the average life of a two-wheel hauler, but there is no scarcity of men who are easily in the sixties. The majority of them are under twenty-five, from that down to eighteen. It is easy to distinguish the country from the city ricksha pullers. The former put on less style, take a longer stride and think nothing of doing thirty miles a day between town and country; round trip, tip and all, $2 Mex., the owner of the vehicle to feed himself.

Copyright—WNU Service.

Polka Dot Tunic Frock

Pattern 1927-B

Even the slenderest of clothes allowances will permit including this clever tunic frock in your wardrobe. It's the very dress you've been wanting . . . so perfect for town, country, commuting and vacationing.

The tunic has a blue polka dot on white ground and flares partly from a tiny waist held by a patent belt. The lines conform to the current wide shoulder vogue while puffed sleeves push up at the shoulders a la Margot. You may wear the neckline open having revers in the same or contrasting color, or buttoned high and ornamented with a clip pin or bouquet. Your friends will succumb to the charm of your black and white shantung model.

polka dotted satin, pastel sheer splashed with crisp white, or any favorite shade or material that expresses your personality, making this ensemble yours alone.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1927-B is available for sizes: 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 14 requires 2 3/4 yards of 35 or 39-inch material for the tunic and 2 yards for the skirt. Send 15 cents in coins.

Send for the Fall Pattern Book containing Barbara Bell well-planned, easy-to-make patterns. Exclusive fashions for children, young women, and matrons. Send 15 cents for your copy.

Send your order to The Sewing Circle Pattern Dept., 149 New Montgomery Ave., San Francisco, Calif.

© Bell Syndicate—WNU Service.

The Views of King Edward—

On Marriage: "I don't think any man should marry before he is thirty-two."

On America: "The Atlantic Ocean has grown noticeably smaller. . . . People of these two great countries are growing ever more anxious to join hands across it."

On War: "We learned a lot of lessons, the most important of which was that there should be no question or chance of another war."

On Russian Drama: "Plays where they spend three hours talking about life without bothering to live."

On Discipline: "It has always been a mystery to me how a certain number of people feel that the only way they can express the feeling we all have about war is by discouraging any form of healthy discipline and training."

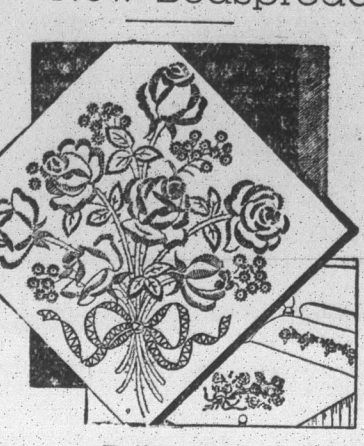

On Housing: "Slums are a slur on our civilization."

On Big-game Hunting: "It is better to film a lion than to kill him."

On Son and Heir: "It has always seemed to be luckier to be born the eldest son. You haven't got to wear any of your brothers' old clothes."

No Day
One of these days is none of these days.

Roses as Motif for New Bedspread

Pattern 1214

With roses as its motif this newly embroidered bedspread's sure of admirers! So is its embroidered bolster, or a matching scarf adorned this speedy way. Flowers are easy to do in single, outline and lazy-daisy stitch—their effect truly lovely!

Pattern 1214 contains a transfer pattern of a motif 16 1/2 by 19 1/4 inches and two and two reverse motifs 4 1/4 by 5 1/2 inches. Color schemes; illustrations of all stitches needed; material requirements.

Send 15c in stamps or coins (coins preferred) for this pattern to The Sewing Circle Needlecraft Dept., 82 Eighth Ave., New York, N. Y.

Write plainly pattern number, your name and address.

Justice Defined

Justice is truth in action.—Joubert.

Justice is the soul of the universe.—Omar Khayam.

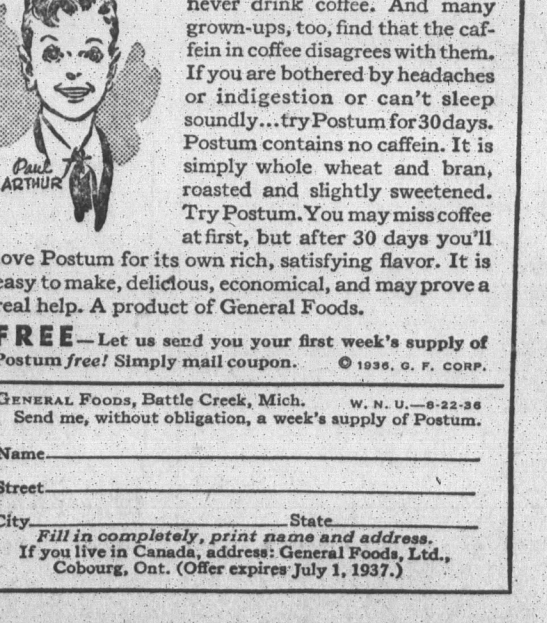

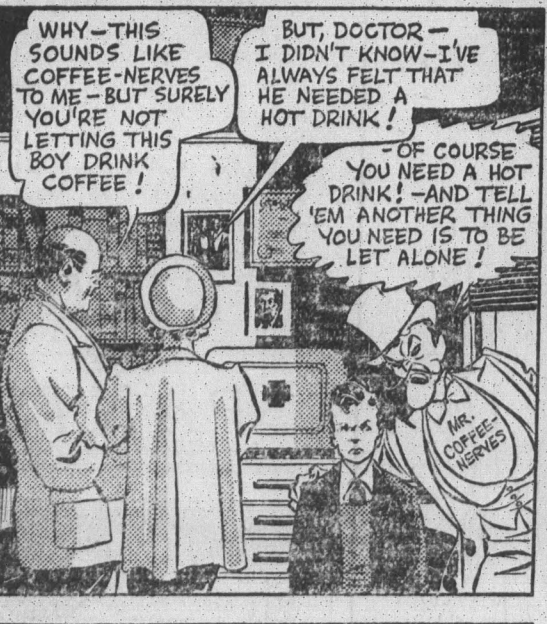

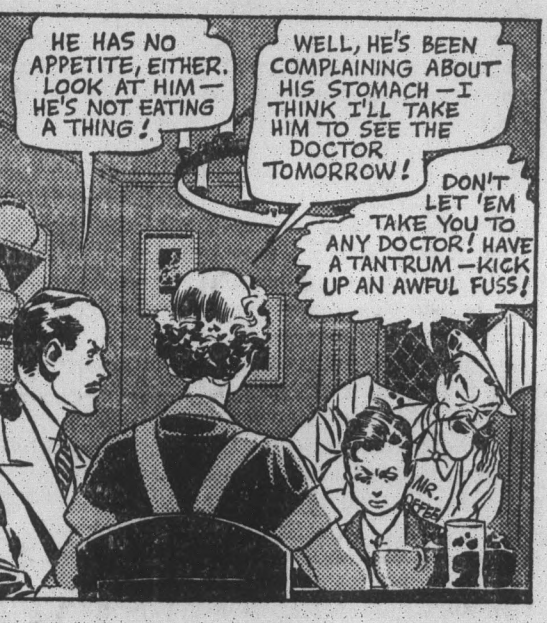

Justice satisfies everybody, and justice alone.—Emerson.

Justice delayed is justice denied.—Gladstone.

Justice without wisdom is impossible.—Froude.

THE DOCTOR HELPS JACK

You Wanted a Western . . .

In answer to many requests for a different and unusual Western story we're happy to announce the coming publication of . . .

GUNLOCK RANCH

by FRANK H. SPEARMAN

HERE'S an exciting tale of Western ranch life. It has all the customary and necessary parts of a true-to-life Rocky Mountain story plus a lot of unexpected angles that will maintain your interest to the final sentence.

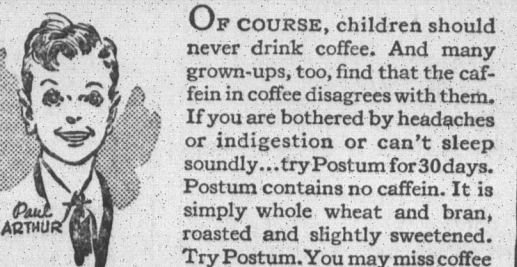

Jane Van Tambel is the heroine, an Eastern girl who comes out West to meet her father for the first time . . . and finds him a crook and thief masquerading under a cloak of respectability. The desire to turn against him is repressed until she meets Bill Denison, her father's mortal enemy. Love appears, and with it comes an emotional conflict that Spearman portrays with mastery.

Should Jane Van Tambel turn against her father or renounce her love for Denison?

This thrilling novel starts in our next issue. Follow it for a wholesome treat!

Copyright—WNU Service.

Of course, children should never drink coffee. And many grown-ups, too, find that the caffeine in coffee disagrees with them. If you are bothered by headaches or indigestion or can't sleep soundly . . . try Postum for 30 days. Postum contains no caffeine. It is simply whole wheat and bran, roasted and slightly sweetened. Try Postum. You may miss coffee at first, but after 30 days you'll love Postum for its own rich, satisfying flavor. It is easy to make, delicious, economical, and may prove a real help. A product of General Foods.

FREE—Let us send you your first week's supply of Postum free! Simply mail coupon. © 1936, G. F. Corp.

GENERAL FOODS, Battle Creek, Mich. W. N. U.—6-22-36
Send me, without obligation, a week's supply of Postum.
Name _____
Street _____
City _____ State _____
Fill in completely, print name and address.
If you live in Canada, address: General Foods, Ltd.,
Cobourg, Ont. (Offer expires July 1, 1937.)

LOCAL AND PERSONAL EVENTS

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Robinson and family of Los Angeles are spending a week at the Silver Spray hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Knight of El Centro will leave Monday after a month's stay at Lejune court.

Ernest Russell and his son Frank, from Tucson, are here visiting Mr. Russell's mother and sister this week.

William Gregg, cousin of Leo Peck, has come out from Tennessee and is staying at the Silver Spray hotel.

The Missionary Circle of the Baptist church will hold their monthly meeting this Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. A special program will be presented and every member is urged to attend.

Red Wilcox has returned from a few days' deer hunting trip and says there are a lot of the does and "spikes" to be seen but the old bucks know enough to keep out of sight during the hunting season.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Freeman, Mrs. Jane Simpson, and Mrs. Freeman's mother, Mrs. Losch, all of Pasadena, are staying at the Simms Apartments on Del Mar street for about six weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Evans, who are staying at Escondido for two weeks, spent last week-end in Ocean Beach. They used to live at the beach, but for several years they have been living at Fellows, Calif. With them are their daughter June, and their son Floyd.

Mrs. Alice Clarke arrived from Champaign, Ill., Monday for a visit with the W. H. Martin family at 5022 Niagara avenue. Mrs. Clark is their sister-in-law. She is quite glad to be away from the extreme heat of Illinois, which has been above the average there this summer.

J. W. Dougherty was a lucky deer hunter on Sunday, the first day of the open season, when he bagged his buck near Warner's and was back to his home in Ocean Beach before noon. As hunters are allowed two bucks each Jim returned to his camp Sunday evening to be on hand for an early morning trek again Monday.

Funeral services were held Thursday morning for Frederick William Seelye, 66, of 1727 Cable street, who died Monday in the hospital. He had been a resident here since 1930 and was a native of Iowa. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Lois C. Stangl and Mrs. Mary Leary, both of Ocean Beach. Rev. James W. Mahood conducted the services at Bonham Brothers.

The Silver Spray hotel management is putting in rooms for hot salt baths, Turkish baths and Russian baths, with a reception room where the lunch counter formerly was located. George Fuller will be the masseur for the baths, which will be ready in about a week. The hotel has again taken over management of the dining room, and a new lunch counter will be installed in the dining room.

The White Shrine club of San Diego met at the home of Mrs. Mary A. Johnston Aug. 5 for a bountiful pot luck at noon, 32 enjoying it, after which meeting was called to order by Pres. Mrs. Crawford. Mrs. Currie of La Salle, Ill., being a visiting member, the rest of the day was spent playing bridge and sewing for club. The hostess was given a rising vote of thanks for her hospitality, and a fine time enjoyed by all.

STRAIT

OCEAN BEACH, CALIF.

SHOWS START AT 7 AND 9 P. M.
Matinees Saturday & Sunday at 2:30

FRI & SAT AUGUST 21-22

Jack London's

"WHITE FANG"

with Michael Whalen, Jean Muir Slim Summerville. The Sequel to "The Call of the Wild".

News, Novelty, Looney-Tune cartoon.
6th chapter "Custer's Last Stand".

SUN MON TUE AUG 23-24-25

"PUBLIC ENEMY'S WIFE"

with Pat O'Brien and Margaret Lindsay.

Musical, cartoon, Pictorial, News.

WED & THURS AUG 26-27

W. C. FIELDS in "POPPY"

A great comedian's greatest show.

—also—

"SPEED"

with James Stewart, Una Merkel, Ted Healy, Wendy Barrie.

"Our Own United States", News.

Miss Lesta Brenneman left this week for a two-weeks' visit in Los Angeles and Pasadena.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wood Strickler of Tucson are staying at the Silver Spray hotel for a month.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Jerry A. Reece, 5075 Muir avenue, a daughter, August 5th, at Mercy hospital.

Jess L. Billups has bought Jack Sweeney's home, at 4965 Cape May. Mr. Sweeney is going east to visit relatives.

Mrs. W. B. Leonard has been spending the past ten days vacationing with relatives at Seven Oaks in the San Bernardino mountains.

Mrs. Maribelle Butts, former Ocean Beach resident has come down from Sacramento and is now visiting with friends in La Jolla.

Freddie Kraft, Jr., Virgil Watters, Frank McElwee, Jr., and Bud Stratton are spending ten days at the boys YMCA camp, Camp Marston, at Julian.

John Barskey left Saturday morning for San Francisco, with his mother and brother, to visit his son Bert Barskey and his daughter, Mrs. Wayne Easley, of San Francisco.

Mrs. Grace Walker Allen, of the Warren-Walker School, and her daughter, Miss Ruth Walker, left recently for a vacation back east. Mrs. Martha Boone Wilcox is in charge of the school during their absence.

A card to the news from Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Bailey, dated August 12th, states they have been in Washington about a week, having a good time and business conditions apparently are good. They were leaving Washington last week end.

Miss Ruth Neal, teacher at Ocean Beach Elementary school, and her mother, Mrs. L. E. Neal, returned this week from a month's trip by bus and boat to Vancouver. On the way, they visited relatives in Seattle, and they also stopped in San Francisco and Portland to see the sights.

Dad Bingham presented The News with a fine 10-pound Yellowtail he caught Wednesday morning. Dad says on that morning's trip the Yellowtail were "bitin' like hek" for about two hours and their boat caught more than sixty of these fine fish.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Neely and Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Carl and family have returned from a trip to the Llagunas where they encountered a fierce thunder storm and lightning, the hail and rain storm striking the house where the ladies were waiting and the hail stones, as large as pigeon eggs, fell to a depth of four inches.

Now Ready for You!

Famous
SIMPLICITY PATTERNS

15c to 25c

Come see this great array of flattering new styles!

Each Simplicity Pattern has its own individual Sewing Primer which makes every step of its construction as simple as ABC.

Try one and you'll quickly see why thirty million women say, "It's smart to sew with Simplicity."

Simplicity Patterns
Guaranteed Perfect
in Cut and Fit

BEN FRANKLIN STORES

5040 Newport—Ocean Beach

Live in Ocean Beach...

Single & double Apartments with gas, lights, heat, linen.
Single rooms all spick and span
Reasonably priced
No raise in rates.

Newport Hotel Apt.
4961 Newport Av B-9205

CLASSIFIED ADS

Advertisements under this heading 10c per line for first insertion and 5c per line for each succeeding insertion.

THE MAY COMPANY

Real Estate — Insurance — Rentals

Ask Coleman about his individual auto policy at $22.05 per year, drive any car. 5009 W. Point Loma Blvd.
Phone Bayview 4441.

Auto Repair . .

ONE LOOSE OR BROKEN PART might mean disaster. Drive your car in for complete inspection.
Motor, springs, brakes, everything.
OCEAN BEACH GARAGE. 4868
Newport avenue.

For Rent . .

FOR RENT—Stores in Sutcliffe bldg
Only 3 left. Will decorate to suit tenant. Very reasonable. Owner,
1969 Abbott. 416c

I. A. HOLDRIDGE—Real estate, rentals, insurance—2143 Bacon street, Phone Bayview 3311.

CAMP HOLIDAY AUTO COURT Cottages, day, week or month, with or without bedding. 5075 Niagara
Avenue. Bayview 9286 137c

Patronize The News Advertisers.

Miscellaneous . .

Spitz-terrier female pup wants good home. No charge. 4760 Santa Monica avenue 42p

LOST—Bunch of keys on chain first of week. Reward for return to O.B. News, 1922 Bacon. 43p

MAN WANTED—Mechanically inclined. Should be able to swim and meet public. Phone Perrine,
BV-9214. 397c

F. R. SESSIONS—Real estate, renors—5046 Newport ave., BV 9239.
tals, insurance, building contract-

Oxy-Acetylene Welding, Stove Repair
Rebuilding, Porcelain Enameling.
GOWER'S STOVE SHOP
4795 Voltaire St. Bayview 4613

VOLUNTEERS OF AMERICA
1637 Market st. Phone M-6535
Please send us your used clothing, furniture, papers, magazines.

Poultry . .

Fresh Dressed Colored Fryers, Roast-ers Hens

Faber's Cash Grocery
Cundell's Market
Ocean Beach Park Market
Jim Cope's Market No. 1

Order your chicken at the above Markets—We dress and deliver them to the market fresh twice a day—9 a. m. and 2 p. m. Ask for Fresh Dressed Chickens from the LOMA ALTA HATCHERY
Loma Alta No. 2, Ocean Beach

FRIED'S for PANTS

R. R. EDWARDS

Have your hair fashioned to your personality at the
BOBBIE SHOP
Strand Theatre by Mr. Edwards

MACMARR STORES AND SAFEWAY STORES

DISTRIBUTION WITHOUT WASTE

PRICES FOR FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

GARDEN FRESH PRODUCE

Potatoes 10 lbs. 27c
U.S. NO. 1 RUSSETS

String Beans lb. 5c
FRESH FANCY

Tomatoes 4 lbs. 10c
MEDIUM SIZE-SELECTED QUALITY

Lemons dozen 15c
FRESH JUICY-MEDIUM SIZE

Peaches 4 lbs. 19c
LARGE HALES

Pears 7 lbs. 25c
MOUNTAIN GROWN

Apples 8 lbs. 25c
NEW CROP BELL FLOWERS

Watermelons lb. 1c
LOCALLY GROWN

QUALITY MEATS

Armours' Hams lb. 32c
STAR SKINNED HAMS- HALF OR WHOLE

Sliced Bacon 1 lb. 17c
ARMOURS STAR CELLO PACKAGE

Lamb Legs lb. 24c
GENUINE SPRING LAMBS-4 TO 5 LB. AVERAGE

Sirloin Steak lb. 25c
ROUND OR SWISS STEAK LB. 22 1/2 c

Prime Rib Roast lb. 22c
TRIMMED FOR THE OVEN

Pork Loin Roast lb. 27c
YOUR CHOICE OF EITHER END

Fluffio Shortening lb. 10c
IN BULK

Colored Fryers lb. 29c
OR ROASTERS-2 1/2 TO 5 LB. AVERAGE

Marshmallows

FLUFFIEST
1 LB. BOX 12c

Gingerale
ROLLS
12 OZ. BOTTLE 5c

Tomato Juice
LIBBY'S
NO. 2 CAN 3 for 25c

Post Toasties
CRISP
FRESH 2 pks. 15c

Baker's Cocoa
1 lb. 7c---lb. 11c

Lucerne Butter
1ST QUALITY
IN QUARTERS lb. 41c

Oregon Cheese
FULL
MILK lb. 22c

GOOD SHOES at lower prices at FRIED'S

A Vote for CLARK
For Supervisor is a Vote for Democratic Representation
at the Court House

School Uniforms at Lower Prices

Gym Bloomers, 59c Gym Middies, 59c
Gym Shorts, 59c School Middies, $1.00
Blue Skirts with Zippers, $2.95 and $1.95
New Fall Shoes, $1.95 and up
Hood tennis shoes & oxfords, lowest prices

FRIED'S

Voters of the FIRST DISTRICT ATTENTION

This is what James Parsons and his friends thought of Ed Hastings BEFORE PARSONS DECIDED TO RUN FOR SUPERVISOR:

HILLCREST NEWS

& PRINT SHOP

3918 FOURTH AVENUE
SAN DIEGO, CALIFORNIA
Mar. 21, 1933

Supervisor E. F. Hastings
Courthouse
San Diego, Calif.

Dear Mr. Hastings:

At the regular meeting of the Mission Hills-
Hillcrest-Park Boulevard Business Association last night, the members unanimously voted you their thanks and appreciation for your stand in favor of the extension of University avenue and for your untiring efforts to bring about consummation of this important project.

We wish to assure you of the mass opinion in this section of the city favoring this project, and to pledge our assistance in any measure you take which will bring about the early completion of this work.

Very truly yours,

MISSION HILLS-HILLCREST-PARK
BOULEVARD BUSINESS ASSN.

James E. Parsons
By James E. Parsons, Secy.

---and most of the Mission Hills, Hillcrest and Park Boulevard Business Men are Still going to

VOTE FOR

EDGAR F. HASTINGS